G. O. P. Moves To 'Demobilize' Federal Relief

CONTROL BY STATES, AIM OF LEADERS

Attack on WPA Seen in Revelation Made by Sen. Vandenberg

WASHINGTON, April 15.—(UP)—Republican plans to fight for return of relief administration to the states was added today to a strong bi-partisan drive to earmark nearly half of the proposed $1,500,000,000 work-relief appropriation.

Sen. Arthur Vandenberg, Mich., most active of senate Republicans, said he expected almost unanimous senate Republican backing for his proposal to "demobilize Washington" relief and return administration to the states.

Attack on WPA Seen

Observers regarded his revelation as indicating a possible Republican form of campaign attacks on the Works Progress administration. Vandenberg and others have charged the WPA is "shot through with politics, graft and waste."

"I am preparing a formula to substitute for the relief bill when it comes over from the house," Vandenberg said. "It would remove both Ickes and Hopkins (PWA and WPA administrators) from the relief picture and would take the relief administration out of Washington, placing it back with the states where it belongs."

Vandenberg contended the federal government should carry the burden of responsibility for caring for the needy, but should do it through local administration. He will propose a system of federal grants, the amount of money

Two Die As Bomb Is Set Off In Auto

Southern California Dean Blasts Wife, Self to Death in L. A.

BULLETIN

LOS ANGELES, April 15.—(UP)—An enigmatical note found in the home of Dr. William D. Moriarty today led investigators to suspect that the University of Southern California economics professor planned to kill Harley McCoy, his business associate, when he bombed his automobile late last night, killing himself and his wife.

LOS ANGELES, April 15.—(UP)—A full account of a dynamite blast with which a University of Southern California professor blew himself and wife into eternity was being pieced together by police today with the aid of two surviving eyewitnesses.

Hours after Dr. William D. Moriarty, 59, dean of the school of merchandising at the university, huddled a homemade bomb against the floor of an automobile, Harley McCoy, 40, a business associate, gasped out a story of the ride which ended on a lonely sidewalk, a short distance from the Century-Fox studio in West Los Angeles shortly before midnight.

McCoy, who was driving, was reported in a serious condition. His fiancée, Eleanor Thonis, 21, was less seriously injured. Moriarty's wife, Mrs. Dorothy Elizabeth Moriarty, 55, was killed. Surgeons removed fragments of metal, wood and cloth from McCoy's head and back, imbedded by force of the explosion which wrecked the car.

Bombing Over Losses

McCoy told police that Moriarty had been brooding for a year or more over financial losses. The two had been associated in a gold mining venture and only yesterday they had quarreled over a business deal.

According to McCoy, the educator asked him to take him for a ride.

"He had been acting strangely for several days and I have been afraid of him," he told officers. "I had a hunch not to go with him, because he insisted on taking his dog along."

The Moriarty and the dog rode in the back seat, McCoy and his fiancée in the front. Moriarty

Four-Year-Old Swallows Wrist Watch

TULSA, Okla., April 15.—(UP)—Margaret Jo Peake, 4, was fully recovered today from an operation for the removal of a wrist watch from her stomach.

The small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Peake swallowed the watch when she had the timepiece in her mouth and sneezed suddenly.

Margaret Jo probably will leave the hospital today.

F.D.R. Wins Omaha Vote Preference

Roosevelt Polls More Than Million 'Complimentary' Midwest Ballots

CHICAGO, April 15.—(UP)—Illinois chose her "favorite son," Franklin D. Roosevelt, as a Republican candidate for president today in preference to Sen. William E. Borah, former Illinois farm boy.

Borah, Idaho liberal, carried the downstate agricultural communities by a small margin in Tuesday's preference primary, but his lead there was too small to overcome the astounding gains which the Chicago publisher established in his home town.

Returns from 4,770 out of the state's 7,439 precincts gave: Knox 273,969; Borah, 210,729.

Two-thirds of these precincts were in Cook county (Chicago). Tabulation of vote from late-reporting downstate communities may narrow the margin and produce an "indecisive vote" of the type which political prognosticators declared would injure presidential aspirations of both men.

President Roosevelt, unopposed for the Democratic preference vote, apparently polled more than 1,000,000 "complimentary" votes.

A downstate "landslide" won the Democratic nomination for Gov. Henry Horner against the Chicago machine-sponsored Herman N. Bunsen.

The gubernatorial race was viewed as a defeat for the Kelly-Nash machine which broke open Illinois Democratic ranks by sponsoring the doctor's candidacy.

C. Wayland Brooks, a Chicago attorney, was the Republican nomination for governor, against former Governor Len Small.

NEBRASKA VOTERS SHOW ROOSEVELT PREFERENCE

OMAHA, Neb., April 15.—(UP)—Nearly two-thirds of Nebraska voters indicated their preference for President Roosevelt as against the three Republican candidates entering.

ARMY LEADERS MEET TO PLAN DEFENSIVE WAR

LONDON, April 15.—(UP)—General staff chiefs of the British, French and Belgian fighting forces met today to perfect a plan for mutual defense in event Germany attacks France or Belgium pending the adoption of a general plan for European peace solidification.

It was understood a major feature of the plan would be to reply to any German attack with a terrific aerial bombardment by massed fleets of German industrial centers, railways, army headquarters, airdromes and seaports.

High officers of the air forces, armies and navies of the three countries took part in the talks, assisted by experts assigned to them.

They met as representatives of three signatories of the Locarno treaty, which bound Britain, France, Belgium, Italy and Germany to respect each others' frontiers and to rally to the defense of any of the five nations which was attacked by another of the five.

Germany's denunciation of the treaty in its rearmament of the Rhineland zone demilitarized by the Versailles treaty, brought Britain to the defense of France and Belgium which held their eastern frontiers to be endangered.

Italy was not present—was not invited, as was said authoritatively, despite reports that Italy had "declined" an invitation. She was not invited because Premier Benito Mussolini is not cooperating in Locarno action while league of nations penalties are imposed against Italy for its war on Ethiopia.

with the assistance of Bert Wilkinson, service station operator at the intersection and landlord of the dead man. Murphy lived in a small house back of the station. A Harrell and Brown ambulance took Murphy to the hospital.

Condon reported it was several minutes before he was able to find Murphy as he did not see the man but only felt the impact.

"Apparently Murphy was walking on the cement portion of the road as my truck was near the center line of the thoroughfare when I felt the impact," Condon said. "I was traveling east on 101 and apparently Murphy was walking in the same direction."

Murphy was Orange county's nineteenth traffic victim for 1936.

Murphy, whose body is at Smith and Tutthill funeral parlors, awaiting an inquest to be conducted by Coroner Earl Abbey, was a brother-in-law of the late Under Sheriff Robert L. Squires, slain at Tomato Springs in 1912 by a cornered outlaw, who, later, was slain in the same gun battle. Murphy's relatives have not been located yet but it is reported he is survived by two married nieces, whose names have not been learned, and three nephews, Bob and Ike Squires of San Pedro and Long Beach, respectively, and Elwell, believed to be living in or near Burbank.

For many years, Murphy, whose age was given as between 45 and 70, was employed on the Moulton ranch, El Toro, by the late B. P. Clineard, it was reported. He was unmarried. The accident happened about 7:15 o'clock last night.

ENTOMBED TRIO DOOMED WHEN SHAFT BREAKS

MOOSE RIVER, N. S., April 15.—(UP)—Three men entombed in an abandoned gold mine were condemned to almost certain death today. A rescue shaft driven in three days through 70 feet of almost solid rock seemed about to collapse, driving rescue workers to the open.

Exhausted miners began a new shaft down through tons of rubble toward the 140-foot level where the men were trapped by a rock slide Sunday, but, even with the aid of a steam shovel and tractor sent here by the Nova Scotia government on a special train from Halifax, the rescuers feared they would be too late.

Until mine inspectors called the rescuers out of their shaft last night, the workers had expected to reach the entombed men today. Mining experts said the rescue tunnel might collapse at any moment.

Smoke still filtering through the slide over the old mine's original shaft encouraged a belief that Dr. D. E. Robertson, Herman Mac Gill, and Alfred Scadding, the buried trio, still were alive.

Miners believed the three had built a fire in a drift protected from the slide. They probably could find food. Even the optimistic among the rescue crew thought three days would be required to sink the shaft begun this morning.

AUTHORESS' DEATH "PERFECT" CRIME

NEW YORK, April 15.—(UP)—Investigators of the assault and strangling of Mrs. Nancy Evans Titterton began today to compare her slaying to the "perfect" crimes she plotted many times for magazine readers.

Five days study of the apartment where the pretty young writer was slain, of clothing ripped from her by her assailant, and of the bathtub in which the killer left her to die of strangulation, revealed not the slightest clue to the identity of the slayer.

An ultra-violet ray process of inspecting fabrics and woods, used recently in a new examination of the Lindbergh kidnap ladder, disclosed heretofore undetected stains on the dress ripped from Mrs. Titterton. But the brightest minds in a small army of detectives were unable to find significance in them.

AMATEUR TARS ON CRUISE

The fact that their knowledge of navigation has been limited to several months' experience on San Francisco Bay didn't daunt Mr. and Mrs. Scott Newhall, young Berkeley, Calif., socialite couple, in planning a world cruise. They left San Francisco in the 42-foot ketch Mermaid to sail for Africa via Cape Horn. Photos show them and the Mermaid.

HOOVER OFFERS 5-POINT SETUP TO AID NATION

Former President Directs Attack on Roosevelt Plans for Future

PALO ALTO, Cal., April 15.—(UP)—Lashing back at President Franklin D. Roosevelt's first campaign speech, former President Herbert Hoover advanced a five-point governmental program today as a medium of obtaining "a restoration of long term confidence."

He directed a four-square attack specifically at the president's Monday night address in Baltimore and assailed New Deal activities as destroying "confidence in the future."

Mr. Hoover charged that the president once again is urging an unemployment relief program that already has proved a failure as an emergency measure. In advocating shorter hours without pay reductions as a measure for reducing unemployment, Mr. Hoover "finds himself on the horns of a dilemma," he said.

Advances Alternative

As an alternative to the Democratic plan, Mr. Hoover suggested: "Suppose we were to: (a) Reduce government expenses, (b) Balance the budget, (c) Establish a real currency, (d) Stop these movements and threats of inflation, (e) Stop these other activities which destroy confidence in the future."

"Then we would get a restoration of long term confidence," he said. "We would secure long time capital. We would create new enterprise, new employment, new jobs. It would start replacement of worn out plants. It would give the sinews and start the building of much needed and better homes."

He spoke of the administration's shorter-hours plan as an unemployment solution.

"As a long view development in American life it is the most desirable end. But as an emergency measure it was tried and failed two years ago," he said.

In seeking this method of solution the president finds himself on the horns of a dilemma. As a sudden measure, if weekly wages are to be maintained with less work hours, then costs and prices are increased, thereby decreasing consumption and jobs are lost.

"On the other hand if hours be reduced and wages be reduced proportionately, then the buying power of the workers is diminished, and consumption and jobs are less."

"Why not try something that has a record of invariable success in restoring employment both in modern history and of recent experience in other countries? Why not at least recognize that there is a relation between government policies and unemployment? Why not try to increase the number of jobs instead of dividing up the jobs which are?"

UNION TIEUP MUDDLED ON WATER FRONT

U. S. Mediators Take Hand When Employers Break With Longshoremen

BULLETIN

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.—(UP)—Harry Bridges, lean Australian who rose to the first position in San Francisco maritime unions through the 1934 general strike, today made the first move to break a waterfront deadlock by asking for an immediate meeting of the joint longshore labor relations committee of the port of San Francisco. Employers did not respond to the request immediately.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.—(UP)—San Francisco's waterfront, the clearing house for the spices and the bountiful products of the great western agricultural valleys, suffered partial paralysis today as a deadlock between employers and union longshoremen became reality.

The situation still was confused, with neither side apparently knowing which way to turn definitely in the crisis caused by refusal of the longshoremen to unload, the Grace line's Santa Rosa and the employers' refusal in breaking off formal relations with the San Francisco local of the International Longshoremen's association.

Situation Muddled

The first of the developments expected to clarify the situation occurred at the Grace line docks at Pier 35, when seven gangs of longshoremen, dispatched by the union hiring hall, reported and said they were ready to unload the 3000 tons of cargo the Santa Rosa brought here from the east coast.

L. Holston, dock superintendent, asked their foremen if they had come from the union dispatching hall.

On their answer in the affirmative, Holston said they could not go to work for Grace lines. He said they would have to be hired directly at the pier. They refused and started back to the hiring hall to consult their leaders.

A call to the hiring hall elicited little information. The dispatcher said several crews had been asked for by shipowners and several gangs had been dispatched. But most of the workers were idle.

Another call, this time to the headquarters of the international longshoremen's association, revealed the state of confusion existing.

Mail Letters In Fire Alarm Box

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 15.—(UP)—John R. Warren, superintendent of mails, believes the city's mail boxes don't get the proper attention. He reported that firemen opened an alarm box to find it contained six letters and a postcard not intended for them.

Then a Mrs. Whitfield King left a note to the postman telling him not to put any mail in the box on her front porch because it frightened away the birds who have nested there.

MRS. BARTHOLOMEW DEMANDS TO SEE HER FILM STAR SON

HOLLYWOOD, April 15.—(UP)—A showdown appeared near in the battle for custody of 12-year-old Freddie Bartholomew, screen star, as his mother, Mrs. Lillian Mae Bartholomew, delivered an ultimatum demanding delivery of the boy today on threat of legal action.

Speaking through her attorney, Mrs. Bartholomew demanded that her sister-in-law, Miss Mylicent Bartholomew, allow her to be reunited with Freddie today.

The attorney, Leonard J. Meyberg, said:

"All the mother wants at present is to see her son," Meyberg said. "If she is satisfied the boy's welfare is being protected, she may decide to leave him in care of the aunt and return to England."

Attorney Felix Cunningham, representing the aunt, declined to comment on the mother's demands.

Too Old To Make Love, Bill Hart Demands $500,000

NEW YORK, April 15.—(UP)—William S. (Bill) Hart, veteran cowboy star of wild west screen thrillers, felt like "a poleaxed steer" when the heads of United Artists corporation told him in 1935 that he was too old to make love in the movies.

Hart, now 65 and gray, although straight and vigorous, confessed his emotion in trial of his suit for $500,000 from United Artists for damage to his career, and he smiled embarrassedly while court spectators laughed.

Hart charged that the damage he alleges was done his screen reputation was caused by failure of United Artists to give proper exploitation to "Tumbleweeds," his last film, produced in 1925.

Seven Killed In Airplane Crash

TURIN, Italy, April 15.—(UP)—An Italian Fokker passenger plane on the Turin-Milan route crashes on the slopes of Mount Basso, 20 miles from here today, killing seven persons.

The dead were reported to include the acting mayor of Turin, a Catholic priest, an Italian lawyer, a Swiss engineer and three of the crew.

'MESSAGE TO GARCIA' DISPUTE SETTLED BY HUBBARD LETTER

CHARGES by Jack Foster of Anaheim, that there never had been a "Message to Garcia" and denial that Elbert Hubbard had ever written the story of that famous message were denied today by the most authentic source available—Elbert Hubbard II, son of the famous writer.

The denial was received today in a letter to The Register by Mr. Hubbard, on stationery of The Roycrofters, printing and arts and crafts studio, founded in 1895 by Elbert Hubbard.

The letter follows:

"In some recent issues of your excellent paper Jack Foster of Anaheim put himself in the spotlight by making a claim that there never was a message to Garcia and secondly that Elbert Hubbard never wrote that famous story anyway. Well, where Jack gets the temerity to discount matters of

ITALIANS SMASH WAY INTO DESSYE

ROME, April 15.—(UP)—Italian soldiers smashed their way today into Dessye, grand headquarters of Emperor Haile Selassie and 145 airplane miles from his capital, Addis Ababa.

As they did so, youths of the class of 1915, born as Italy was entering the World war 21 years ago, responded to a call to the colors to back up Premier Benito Mussolini's defiance of Great Britain and the League of Nations.

Mussolini will demand that the League of Nations lift sanctions against Italy as a primary condition to his entering peace negotiations with Ethiopia, diplomatic quarters reported today.

60 JAPANESE DIE IN MINE DISASTER

LONDON, April 15.—(UP)—More than 60 miners were killed today when the winding gear of an elevator broke at the Sumitomo coal mines in Fukuoka prefecture of Japan, the Exchange Telegraph Tokyo correspondent reported.

Shifts were being changed at daybreak, the correspondent said, when broken cables sent 83 men plunging 200 feet to the bottom of the shaft. About 20 were found alive, the correspondent said, all desperately injured and likely to die.

TROOPS GUARD BORDER CITIES IN GAMING WAR

TUJANA, Mex., April 15.—(UP)—Federal troops paraded through northern cities of the Mexican state of Baja California today as the restless population reportedly was on the verge of proclaiming the area an independent state.

Officers of the military garrison here denied martial law had been put into effect, declaring the 1200 soldiers patrolled the city as part of a "routine operation."

In an attempt to soothe the restless population, government rationing was issued to the people who have been on the verge of starvation since President Lázaro Cárdenas banned all gambling in border resort towns last July.

Speakers at a mass meeting of 1500 unemployed yesterday denounced the government ban on gambling and urged formation of the independent state of Baja California.

Most of those attending the meeting formerly were employed by gambling casinos here and at Agua Caliente a few miles away.

carried a small black box in his lap. As they drove out West Pico boulevard, the educator instructed McCoy to turn down the side road and stop.

Raising the black box above his head, he screamed:

"Now I am going to kill you all!"

The others remonstrated with him. McCoy attempting to turn the car around in the excitement. Moriarty, however, again sprang to his feet and hurled the box against the floor.

Moriarty and his wife were killed almost instantly, parts of the professor's body being blown 15 feet away. McCoy and Miss Thon- is were hurled out of the car. The pet dog also was killed.

The detonation was heard more than a mile away. When witnesses reached the scene, they found a cloud of dense smoke rising from the wreckage. McCoy and his fiancée, dazed and bleeding from a dozen wounds, were staggering about, weakly calling for aid.

An ambulance crew, detecting what it thought was a spark of life in Mrs. Moriarty, hurried her to the nearest hospital but she was dead upon arrival.

Moriarty had been a member of the University of Southern California faculty since 1926 and was widely known as a merchandising economist and author of several books on the subject. He was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1904.

KEN MURRAY SAYS:

The Mexican government certainly gave its President Calles the run out when they exiled him out of the country via the air route. Certainly looks like when a man down there becomes a political power, he not only needs an adequate salary, but also plenty of running expenses.

Did you ever notice that whenever they have a political upheaval below the Rio Grande, either the U. S., or the cemetery gets an increase in population.

However, in this country when there's a strong man bothering those in power, he's not subjected to the humiliation of exile... No sir! They merely make him Vice-President.

So remember:

Trying to keep track of the head man in Mexico is almost as difficult as trying to name the boundaries of Japan.

Santa Ana Twenty-Thirty club members were entertained last evening at James cafe by motion pictures presented on behalf of the Champion Sparkplug company. The pictures showed manufacturing processes, boat and auto races.

Plans for staging "The Silent Enemy," motion picture of the North American Indian and rated by a national magazine as four-star at Willard Junior high school, 3 p. m., Wednesday, April 23, were revealed. Money obtained from showing of the picture will be used by the club for charity and civic enterprise. The public is invited.

Friday night the local club will go to Orange for a get-together, to hear a broadcast by the association of 20-30 clubs of an international radio program—a friendship message to Australia.

FRISCO DOCKS PARALYZED BY UNION TIE-UP

The man who answered the call repeated over and over "they won't let us go to work. What are we to do?"

Apparently he mistook the reporter for a union official for he kept asking for instructions.

He said Harry Bridges, leader of the longshoremen, to whom the waterfront employers association last night delivered its ultimatum, was "somewhere on the embarcadero."

Several hundred men assembled in front of the union headquarters, a few blocks from the waterfront. They were there because Bridges had told them to come in event the employers rescinded their non-recognition policy.

Lynn Fox, spokesman for the employers, indicated there would be no change—for the present—in the employers' decision to break off with the union because of numerous disputes which resulted in what Fox claimed were 400 "stoppages of work" in less than two years.

Informed some gangs were being dispatched, Fox said the crews were those which had not finished their jobs yesterday.

He said that in addition preferred gangs—those employed steadily by the same firms, would continue working.

Bridges has it in his power to order these men, as members of the union, to cease work. He has made no move, however, in that direction. Such action would be tantamount to calling a strike, a condition the longshoremen's leader appears anxious to avoid.

Federal mediators came to the waterfront this morning to study the situation. They will report to Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins.

For the present the deadlock is localized in San Francisco. The crisis may spread to Los Angeles where the S. S. Virginia is due to dock within several days. She has the same kind of crew which caused the outbreak here—a crew recruited from the Great Lakes and other waterfront centers after the regular crew joined a "rank and file" strike of union seamen. The maritime federation of the Pacific has protested such crews are little better than strikebreakers.

TALK REFLECTS RETURN OF "TROUBLESOME TIMES"

SAN PEDRO, Cal., April 15.—(UP)—Return of troublesome times to the San Francisco waterfront was reflected here in an undercurrent of talk and rumors that may reach a head today.

The Southern California Council of the Maritime Federation of the Pacific called a meeting to discuss the San Francisco situation and possibly map a policy to follow in the event of a bay city strike.

Prospects of a break in relations between employers and members of the International Longshoremen's association local were among the issues tabbed for discussion.

Outwardly, the situation was quiet with 1200 longshoremen unloading 20 ships, now in dock.

Union officials refused to state what action, if any, would be taken when the Panama-Pacific liner Virginia puts in here Saturday.

Although observers understood that the line has been tentatively listed as "unfair to organized labor," union leaders would make no comment.

MAN CONFESSES HE KILLED 4 YEAR AGO

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 15.—(UP)—Police questioned a 30-year-old man today regarding the disappearance of four Illinois tourists in New Mexico one year ago after he told a story of having killed two men and two women in Arizona.

The prisoner, Jerry Martin, was arrested yesterday for questioning regarding the theft of an automobile. He told police he escaped several years ago from a Florida insane asylum.

Investigators said his story of the Arizona killings tallied in many respects with circumstances of the disappearance of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heberer of Duquoin, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. George Lorus, of East St. Louis, Ill.

Townsend's Man Winner At Polls

OMAHA, Neb., April 15.—(UP)—A victory for Dr. F. E. Townsend's social security plan was seen today in former Rep. Terry Carpenter's apparently successful bid for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

When Cologne Paid Its Homage to Hitler

With thousands lining the streets of Cologne and gazing from windows and housetops from which the swastika flew, Adolf Hitler is shown as he reviewed his guard of honor when he entered the city for his final speech before the recent German ballot. In an amazing example of railroad efficiency, more than 2,000,000 people had been carried to the Rhine city to cheer Der Fuehrer. In his speech Hitler declared, "I have been an ordinary soldier and know the horrors of war. I stand for peace."

KNOX SELECTED OVER BORAH IN ILLINOIS VOTE

ed against him in primary ballots counted today.

Sen. William E. Borah, only candidate entered officially against Mr. Roosevelt, carried the bulk of Republican votes, but lost many to Alf Landon, Kansas governor, and Frank Knox, Chicago publisher.

Returns from 1,107 out of 2002 precincts gave: Roosevelt 62,906; Borah 35,895.

Landon's name was written in to more than 5000 ballots from these precincts. Knox's name into at least 100 although neither officially was in the contest.

Former President Herbert Hoover was named for vice-president in at least 200 ballots.

Borah's share of the Republican votes appeared to have been reduced seriously by popular enthusiasm for Gov. Alf Landon, of Kansas. Although unofficial returns did not immediately indicate how many votes Landon received, it was believed his name was written into many ballots.

Efforts to start a similar written movement for Sen. George W. Norris appeared, however, to have failed.

Nebraska delegates to the national nominating conventions will be uncommitted, although the presidential preference vote may be accepted as "advisory." President Roosevelt is assured of all Nebraska's votes in the Democratic convention.

POLICE SEARCH FOR MISSING PERSONS IN ORANGE COUNTY

Two missing persons, Harry Lewis, 36, 515 East Second, Santa Ana, and 15-year-old Mary Escalante, Stanton, were being sought by city police and sheriff's officers today.

Lewis, described by his father, M. L. Lewis, as being six feet tall, weighing 175 pounds, with brown eyes and black hair, and wearing a black coat, overalls and old straw hat, left home Sunday. He has a scar on cheek and throat.

The Escalante girl, school officials believed, left home Monday night in company of 19-year-old Tony Aguilar, also of Stanton. They may have eloped, officers said. Aguilar, resident of Manzanita colony, near Stanton, drives a green 1927 or 1929 Chevrolet, with red wheels, and has been courting the girl for some time. Warren O. Mendenhall reported. The girl was dressed in white shoes, brown stockings and house dress, it was reported. She is five feet tall, weighs 115 and has dark hair and eyes.

BARE THREAT TO KIDNAP DIONNES

MONTREAL, April 15.—(UP)—A 13-month old threat to kidnap the Dionne quintuplets was revived today by remarks of Dr. Allan R. Dafeo.

In an interview, Dr. Dafeo admitted to reporters that 13 months ago there was a threat to kidnap the babies.

At that time it was reported that plans had been completed to abduct the children from their home and take them by automobile or airplane across the United States border. A police guard was established and the threat vanished, but their present duties are to direct traffic and keep the thousands of curious spectators who visit the hospital, in order.

WAR VETERAN HURT WHEN STRUCK DOWN BY CAR ON STREET

Steve Morales, 27, war veteran from Sawtelle, was injured last night on West Seventeenth street at the intersection of Los Alamitos, when struck by a car operated by Richard N. Wimbush, 41, 1108 South Van Ness, Santa Ana. Wimbush told state highway officers, Morales was walking across the street at the time.

A report filed yesterday by the highway patrol said Max Peters, about 25, Los Angeles, was knocked unconscious and taken to a Los Angeles hospital, following an accident on alternate 101 highway near the Santa Ana river bridge early this week. Peters, it was reported, collided with two cars, previously in a collision and standing along the roadway. The first collision involved drivers, William Purkiss, 22, Los Angeles, and Fred Schraeder, 24, Palms. Purkiss and Schraeder successfully passed sobriety tests, it was reported.

It was learned that parents of Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kidder, Santa Ana, did not wish to prosecute in the case and Los Angeles officers said the case would be dropped.

HUBBARD'S SON ENDS ROW OVER GARCIA AUTHOR

"As far as Rowan's heroic feat is concerned, that has been well explained and is a matter of history with the United States government, whether Jack believes it or not."

"I just want to put your readers straight as to the authorship of the famous 'Message to Garcia,' and I feel just a little bit embarrassed and absurd in having to mention or defend such a state of affairs."

"The original longhand manuscript of 'A Message to Garcia' in my father's writing and penned by him in 1899, is on file in the archives of the Buffalo Public Library. It is ridiculous to even raise the question as to whether Elbert Hubbard wrote this remarkable little essay. No one else could have done it quite as he did!"

"And as for me ever testifying, as Jack claims I did, that my father did not write the Garcia—why he's just full of California prunes, which I understand go to one's head if there is an over-indulgence in them, good as they are."

SUPERVISOR TALKS TO EDISON WOMEN

Ray Taylor, division sales supervisor of the Edison company, and Maurice Tallon, dealer contact man, were the speakers at a meeting of the Edison Women's committee last night in the Santa Ana Commercial office. The publicity committee, consisting of Rose Rauscher, Mary Belle Adams and Thelma Jane Leonard, was in charge of the meeting.

Following the business session, the speakers were introduced. Discussion at the meeting centered on a chart in color made by Frank Lansdowne, architect, showing and explaining the three domestic rates for electricity. After explaining the three rates, the two speakers assisted in helping committee members make 20 complete charts to be used in Edison offices in the county.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. The May meeting will be in charge of the debates and dramatics committee composed of Elisabeth Millen, chairman, Amber Andersgaard and Cora McGuire.

MARTIN-SENOUR MONARCH HOUSE PAINT

(100% pure — pure lead and zinc point)

$15 seems hardly sufficient to buy enough paint for even a small five-room cottage—but it has been done. The paint used was Monarch House Paint—the 100% pure paint—pure carbonate of lead, pure oxide of zinc, linseed oil, turpentine with drier and color—the same formula accepted as the standard for 100% pure paint.

Use Monarch Paint on your house and it will protect it from heat and cold, sun and rain. It will not crack or peel and will look well for years. We have a chart that will help you figure out just how much Monarch Paint you need to repaint your house. Ask for one.

COUNTY BOARD SEEKS PWA AID ON 2 PROJECTS

Application to PWA for two additional dredging projects at Newport harbor, aggregating $20,000, was authorized by the county supervisors late yesterday, as the board passed a motion by Supervisor Willard Smith for that purpose, on the eve of Smith's departure for Washington to seek a federal maintenance rating for the harbor.

Supervisor N. E. West, in whose district the harbor is located, and who had been at odds with his colleagues on various actions by the board throughout the day, did not vote on Smith's motion, which was supported by the other four supervisors.

Target Range

The supervisors also authorized application to WPA yesterday for a $274 project, involving construction of a target range for Orange county peace officers, to be located on a site at Anaheim, donated by that city.

The application calls for $7260 of federal money and a $2014 contribution by the county. Employment of 92 persons is provided.

Assistant Matron

Adoption of an ordinance amendment by the board late yesterday paved the way for appointment of an assistant matron at the county jail.

Sheriff Logan Jackson announced that Mrs. Henrietta Hotelling, sister of the present matron, Mrs. Theo Lacy, has been appointed to the part-time position, covering two days per week. The assistant's duties require use of the quarters of the matron. The appointment involves no additional cost to the county, said Jackson, as the assistant has been connected with the staff for some time.

NO INQUEST IN KIDDER DEATH WILL BE HELD

There will be no inquest in the death Sunday morning of Allen Kidder, well-known Santa Ana youth, who was paid great honors yesterday by fellow University of Southern California students and hundreds of other friends, at funeral services conducted here at the Spurgeon Memorial South Methodist church yesterday before he was laid to rest near his former Burbank home.

Coroner Earl Abbey announced there will be no inquest, declaring he did not believe it necessary, after his investigation. Kidder's death was due to pneumonia and blood poisoning, the latter resulting from a fight in Los Angeles in which his thumb was badly bitten by an allegedly intoxicated opponent.

It was learned that parents of Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kidder, Santa Ana, did not wish to prosecute in the case and Los Angeles officers said the case would be dropped.

Bicycle Is Stolen From Gallipo Boy

Clifford Gallipo, 6101-2 West Fourth street, son of C. E. Gallipo and nephew of Capt. C. W. Gallipo of the Salvation Army, is minus a new bicycle today. Thieves took the bicycle last night, from its parking place at the Salvation Army headquarters on Sacramento street, in spite of the fact it was locked, Clifford said. He told city police the bicycle was a new Elgin, red with white trimmings, and having balloon tires and a tool box.

A bicycle belonging to Ted Johnston, 1102 Spurgeon, and stolen October 20, 1935, found some time ago and taken to police headquarters for safe-keeping, was returned to Mrs. Helen Johnston yesterday.

With colorful and impressive ceremonies, interspersed with many humorous stunts, officers of Santa Ana Elks lodge No. 794 were installed last night.

Special attention and honor was paid to Don Jerome, outgoing exalted ruler, who has been one of the most popular exalted rulers of the local lodge. He was showered with congratulations and many presents.

On behalf of the lodge, William "Stormy" Gordon presented Jerome with a diamond ring with a past exalted ruler's emblem on it. Mrs. Jerome, through Franklin West, presented him with an attractive elks hat rack. The publicity committee presented Jerome with a bound book of newspaper clippings, forming an interesting history of Jerome's term as exalted ruler.

P. S. Roper, past exalted ruler and past district deputy, acted as installing officer last night, assisted by an installing staff composed of all but one past exalted ruler of the local lodge, Charles D. Swanner, the only member of the team who is not a past exalted ruler. The team was comprised of Roper as exalted ruler; Robert Walker, loyal knight; G. P. Campbell, esquire; Franklin West, inner guard; Fred Newcomb, leading knight; W. C. Je-Charles Swanner, chaplain, and Dr. V. A. Rossiter, leading knight.

Neiman, trustee for three year term, and Fitz Gibbs, organist.

The event was one of the most successful of any Elks event of the year. Several hundred attended the dinner and installation ceremonies. Five acts of vaudeville were presented during the evening. Special entertainment featured the Elks double quartet.

Byrne, deputy state parole officer, yesterday afternoon. Burns, Los Angeles officer, took Burns to Los Angeles for hearing. Burns was paroled March 7, 1935, after serving from January 25, 1933, on a conviction of grand theft, growing out of the stock deal. The conviction carried a 2 to 20-year sentence.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG — News Behind the News —

BY PAUL MALLON
(Copyright, 1936, by Paul Mallon)
BRAIN CHILD

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The Republican brain trust is going to be a big help, but it is not yet clear to whom.

The first-born brain child, offered by one of the new appointees to an old-line politician informally a few days back, has caused inner apprehensions.

Said the new Republican brain trust to the old-line Republican politician:

"I've been thinking about this thing, and it seems to me our trouble is that our men in congress are not on their feet enough. The Republican congressmen do not debate enough. I think we should pick out a few of our best men up there and prime them."

The politician: "I think you have something there. Whom do you have in mind?"

The R. B. T.: "Well, what about this fellow Tydings?"

Note—As all conscious persons in Washington have known for years, Mr. Tydings is the able Democratic senator from Maryland, who has been on his feet considerably lately, praising President Roosevelt.

PORTENT?
Nary a flicker of laughter or dismay showed on the frozen face of the politician, as he responded:

"You are absolutely right. What you ought to do is to get Tydings on his feet, along with Joe Robinson, Pat Harrison and the rest of our good men in congress."

The R. B. T. was pleased and indicated he would take the matter up at the first meeting, but by that time the politician was outside doubled up in a paroxysm. He now feels that the R. B. T.'s will undoubtedly elect Prof. Tugwell as chairman at that first meeting.

INFLUENCE
President Roosevelt's first regret, upon his return from his fishing trip was that he had not taken Messrs. Ickes and Hopkins with him this time.

Behind their tussle, now again being widely advertised, is a personal feeling engendered by the fancy lobbying activities of Mr. Ickes for PWA funds in congress.

Mr. Ickes did not have to take six congressmen out to live with him, as the power lobbyist did. Nor did he have to sit outside in the senate lobby sending in his cards to senators whom he wished to influence. As a cabinet officer, he has the privilege of the senate floor, although it may be related that he never abused it by button-holing senators at their desks, publicly in the presence of the galleries.

What he did was to go right into the sanctum sanctorum of the senate marble room, the library which no outsider is permitted to invade. Seeing him there so frequently of late, some senators have commented among themselves, and one Republican senator started a personal investigation to find out what Mr. Ickes was doing to influence congress into voting PWA expenditures.

The only answer he was able to get from Mr. Ickes' friends was that the cabinet officer was promoting a bill to change the name of the interior department.

TEXAN TELLS LOBBY GROUP ABOUT NEGRO RALLY PHOTOGRAPHS

WASHINGTON, April 15.—(UP)—Vance Muse, tall, broad-shouldered Texan, pounded his chest with his fist today and told the senate lobby committee how his conscience forced him to distribute photographs of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and two Negro escorts "all over the South" in an anti-Roosevelt campaign.

Muse, a leader of the southern committee to "hybrid the constitution," said John J. Raskob and Pierre S. Du Pont, members of the American Liberty league, contributed $5,000 each to the committee. The money was used to help defray expenses of the Macon, Ga., political rally which endorsed Gov. Eugene Tamm, Jr., of the New Deal, for the presidency.

"Did you tell Mr. Raskob and Mr. Du Pont what you wanted the money for?" committee chairman Hugo L. Black, D. Ala., asked.

"I did," Muse replied, rocking back and forth on his heels as he insisted on standing before the committee in spite of invitations to sit down.

"Did you discuss it with Gov. Tamm?"

"No, he didn't know the source of the funds."

The photographs distributed at the Macon rally, showed Mrs. Roosevelt and two escorts entering a building where a Negro meeting was to take place. Many political writers at the rally commented on the wide distribution of the photographs in the South.

CHARLEMAGNE DAY FIXED
ST. MARY'S COLLEGE, Calif. (UP)—Sponsors of St. Mary's college have decided on a full day's commemoration, April 26 of "the forgotten man of modern education."

WORLD PEACE DISCUSSED BY COLLEGE HEAD

FULLERTON, April 15.—Dr. W. O. Mendenhall, president of Whittier college, last night talked at the Fullerton International Relations council meeting in Hughes cafe on international relations and war problems.

He was a guest of Junior College International Relations club.

"Youth has built up, or has had opportunity to build up propaganda resistance, has the ability to understand the situation, and the opportunity to learn; has learned the essentials of cooperation and is intensely interested since it not only will have to pay the bills, but will have you do the fighting," he said.

Following the talk, he said the Emergency Peace Campaign committee is made up of all groups, unofficially represented, for several distinct purposes, "not the least of which is to drive a wedge between pacifist and communist in the minds of the people," he said.

"It is inconceivable that a pacifist should take a stand against international war, and back class war. The pacifist believes problems can be solved through education, the dissemination of truth, and the ballot."

Fullerton, April 15.—Dr. F. H. Gohr and Mrs. Gohr and their children spent the weekend visiting in Victorville with Mrs. Gohr's sister, Mrs. Ross Nelson and her family, and with Mr. Gohr's brothers in Lucerne valley.

District Junior College International Relations club, president, Otis Le Ross, president of the Fullerton International Relations council, introduced him.

QUERIES
The inside reason for Joe Robinson's filibuster against the Vandenberg publicity resolution is that tricky Democrats were fixing up an ambush for the Senator from Michigan. The majority leader simply stalled for time while AAA publicists scoured their arsenals for ammunition.

Mr. Vandenberg spoke ardently and voted gladly for the Jones-Costigan sugar act, protecting Michigan's beet sugar interests by reducing foreign imports. In return, Porto Rican and Hawaiian growers received benefit payments and they happen to be larger than those paid to domestic producers of wheat, corn, tobacco, rice and cotton.

One Hawaiian firm owned by prominent Republican contributors and office holders—the Baldwin brothers—got more than $1,000,000. Michigan sugar planters don't appear among the above—$10,000 class.

Mr. Robinson will also ask why Mr. Vandenberg voted against publicity for large income tax payments and R. F. C. loans (including the unpaid $90,000,000 to the Dawes bank), and now insists upon headlining hand-outs to the tillers of the soil, the backbone of America and all that. Joe is all set to rage and shake with indignation, although he's holding up the bill to benefit southern share-croppers for fear it may hurt him with big plantation owners.

PROGRAM
The series of confidential conferences started at the White House since PDR's return demonstrate his Simon Legree-like control of Congress.

Picnics & Reunions
The Whiteside County, Illinois picnic association will hold its regular summer reunion with the Illinois State Picnic organization at Sycamore park, Los Angeles, April 25. Everyone is urged to pass the word to newcomers and tourists who may meet old friends.

All former residents of Idaho are included in the open call to rally for the annual spring picnic reunion, all day, Saturday, April 18 in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles. President Charles P. McCarthy will offer a fine program of music and addresses following the basket dinner hour. Hot coffee will be served and county registers will be open. Idaho tourists are especially invited.

SHEEP WOOL SPROUTS SEEDS
SAN JOSE, Cal. (UP)—Frank Isadora, sheep ranch owner at La Honda, has written his sister here the season has been so damp, the seeds lodged in the wool of his sheep have begun to sprout. "However, it's a wise sheep that grows its own grass," he added.

CONTRACTS FOR ANAHEIM WATER PIPE AWARDED

ANAHEIM, April 15.—Bids on cast iron pipe and fittings for extension of water mains in Anaheim were accepted at a meeting of the city council last night.

The U. S. Pipe and Foundry company received the contract for the pipe, quoting a low price of 68 cents on the six-inch pipe, 45 cents on the four-inch and 22 cents on the two inch. Alhambra Foundry company, with a price of five cents on one group of fittings, was given a part of this contract, while the Reliable Iron foundry, with a price of five cents, received a contract on the other group of fittings. The bids on the valve boxes were all rejected. Later a motion was passed that the valve boxes be bought from the Alhambra Foundry company on the open market at a price of $4 each.

The entire project will cost $18,000 and is contingent on a WPA grant.

Other business was taken under advisement, with the exception of the monthly reports, which were received and filed. It was shown that demands on the city treasury for the past three weeks amounted to $30,282.46, of which $16,109.05 was drawn on the general fund; $12,862.21, bonds and interest; $1,118.70, acquisition and improvement; and $192.50 meter deposit. The balance in the city treasury is now $183,715.91, of which $151,198.63 is in the general fund.

TRY TODAY THIS NEW BREAD
MADE FROM A WOMAN'S RECIPE

At last — a bread that's really thrilling to taste!

By Julia Lee Wright, Head of one of the world's largest Home Economics Bureaus

What makes this bread so different, so really appetizing to eat?

The reason is this—Western women themselves got together and developed it.

They tested and compared hundreds of loaves. They tried scores of recipes. Then they told us which bread they liked best—and they told us why.

So this is not just another chemical-formula loaf. It is Western women's own idea of what good bread ought to be.

It's actually thrilling to taste! So good, in fact, we've planned to have it reach you always perfectly fresh, full-flavored and tender-soft.

Watch for Date Bands

As each fragrant loaf comes from the ovens, we put a Freshness Date Band on it.

Look for this band when you buy Julia Lee Wright Bread. It tells you the day this bread is most delightfully fresh.

Treat your family to "woman's recipe" bread today. (It makes grand toast!) See how much more they enjoy it!

GUARANTEE

If you do not find that the new Julia Lee Wright Bread tastes better than the bread you have been getting, all the money you have paid will be refunded

Women Put Their Heads Together
Usual "baker's bread" they found too standardized, often flat and insipid in flavor (and women put taste first in judging foods!) Women worked months to create this new Julia Lee Wright Bread. It's a woman's idea of what bread ought to be

MYSTERY, ROMANCE SHOWING AT STATE

Thrilling entertainment is provided in "The Case of the Mystery Man," according to Manager V. M. Walker of Walker's State theater where this action drama is being screened today and Thursday. A second feature on the program is "Chatterbox."

Roger Pryor, Joan Perry and Arthur Hohl have the leads in the first film, which concerns the efforts of a criminal to secure the negative of a photo of himself taken just as he was leaving the scene of a crime by a roving cameraman.

Anna Shirley is the star of "Chatterbox," a romance, in the role of a hopelessly stage-struck girl from the hills of Vermont, who comes to New York and finally lands a part in a play. Phillips Holmes is cast as an artist in love with her, and Edward Ellis plays the part of her grandfather.

MISS LELLA WATSON'S PLAY WINNER IN ONE-ACT CONTEST

By ELEANOR ELLIOTT

To Miss Lella Watson of the modern languages department of Santa Ana Junior college, prominent in educational and club circles of the city including Community Players' association and Quill Pen club, goes the honor of having written this year's winning short play in the annual one-act playwriting contest conducted by the Players' association.

This contest, closing the first of a series of events, attracted some 12 to 15 entrants but choice of plays eventually narrowed down to four, which were produced last night in Ebell auditorium. Judgment on the basis of literary quality and ease of production was rendered by three disinterested adjudicators from out of the city. They were James Neill North, Ontario, author, publisher and drama teacher; Miss May Rose Borum of the drama department of Tustin Union High school, and Richard Bort of Ebbert Junior college English department.

They were three units of a crowd that taxed the capacity of Ebell auditorium, one of the largest and most interested audiences ever attending one of the contests. The plays, with casts drawn from association and Junior college membership, directed by Gladys Simpson Shafer, Louis Rees Auer, and Mabel Pruitt, opened with "The Last Hour" by Arthur Collins.

In the final summing up of qualities of the short dramas, James Neill North as spokesman for the judges, explained that acting ability was not considered in the final verdict. Nevertheless he paid tribute to the skill with which the four casts interpreted the work of the amateur playwrights. In no case was this better expressed than by the group presenting the historical delineation of an episode in "The Last Hour" of Marie Antoinette's life.

The martyred queen was played by Mary Swarthout with Edith Ellis as her sister, "Elizabeth"; Daniel Brown as "General Dillon"; Glenn Shaw as "Brisson"; and John Colwell as "Jailor." This play received second place in the final verdict of the judges and was commended for high literary standards.

Remarkably fine work was done by Victor Rees and Althea Lembecke in portraying the delicate fantasy of Pauline Flint's "Following Always." It was Miss Flint's first entry in one of the contests and everyone seeing the tragic little sketch, and hearing the beauty of the lines, was predicting future things of interest and importance from her pen. "Following Always," like "The Last Hour," had a poetic quality worked out with extreme modernism.

"Love Must Be Changed" by Margaret Gower was met with enthusiasm on the part of the audience, with its clever application of the idea of the ease of shifting marital bonds in Russia. J. Leslie Steffenson and Mary Bruner portrayed the husband and wife, "Betty" and "Katinka"; Mabel Pruitt was "Citizens Pauline"; and Glenn Shaw was the neighbor, "Mitscha."

Winning Vehicle
Miss Watson's prize-winning play, "Red Bubble," was the final one of the evening, and its theme of patriotism in conflict with red propaganda was developed in interesting manner with flashes of bubbling humor, by the largest cast of the group. Headquarters of a college publication furnished the setting, with Arthur Coleman as the managing editor, "Henry Lancaster Jr."; Agnes Brady as the editor, "Betty Rose"; James Doyle as the sports editor, "Jack Holmes";

J. Parley Smith portrayed the college president, "Dr. Carleton";

SPANISH VETS HOLD "MUSTER DAY" TUESDAY

Calumet camp and auxiliary, United Spanish War Veterans, staged a free dance and card party at the Knights of Columbus hall last night with the WPA orchestra under leadership of George Foy furnishing the music for the dance.

Commander James A. Randel called attention to the fact that next Tuesday night will be the annual "Muster Day" for the organization, a day observed by all camps and auxiliaries on April 21 or the nearest meeting time to that date. On this day all members present are re-mustered and pledge anew their loyalty to the government and United Spanish War Veterans.

Arrangements are being made to hold a dinner to be given by the Calumet life and drum corps on May 12 to help pay expenses of the corps to the department encampment at San Bernardino next month.

Mrs. May Glaze of the Garden Grove district, who is president of the auxiliary for the department of California, announced that she had just returned from San Bernardino where she learned that difficulties have arisen that might prevent department drill team competitive tests because of lack of suitable halls.

Past Commander Marriott C. Cooper presided over the refreshment booth at last night's meeting.

JAYSEE MUSIC FESTIVAL WILL BE SATURDAY

Among the outstanding school music activities this spring in Southern California is the first Southern California junior college music festival which will be given Saturday, April 18, on the campus of the Los Angeles junior college.

Culminating the all-day festival activities, a composed symphony orchestra, composed of 70 or 80 student musicians, selected from 12 participating junior colleges in the Southland (including Arizona) will present a concert in the evening at 8:15 o'clock in the main auditorium. Featured in the concert will be an outstanding instrumental soloist who will play a movement from a major work with the orchestra.

The program will present standard works of symphonic literature and will include the tone poem "Finlandia," by Sibelius, Beethoven's "Egmont Overture," the "First Carmen Suite," by Bizet, Haydn's "Oxford Symphony," and the "Phedre Overture" by Massenet. Conductors participating are Harold Walberg, Fullerton junior college; Aldore Belprez, Compton junior college; Dwight Defty, Long Beach junior college; Milton Mohs, Pasadena junior college, and Dr. Edmund A. Cykler, Los Angeles junior college.

The name of Harold Walberg, for the last seven years has been closely connected with the development of non-competitive festivals or cooperative concerts. A group of his students recently returned from participating in the All Southern California college symphony concert at Santa Barbara which included students from four-year colleges as well as from junior colleges. This coming concert is specifically for junior colleges of Southern California and has for its purpose the production of music on a junior college level.

In addition to her husband, C. W. Loughton, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Gilbert Brown of Santa Ana, and Mrs. M. Smith, Oxnard, and a son, Kenneth Loughton of Santa Ana.

COUNTY P.-T. A. PLANNING TRIP TO CHINATOWN

Details of a tour of Chinatown and Olvera street, in Los Angeles, are being arranged by Mrs. Ora K. Heine, art director of the Orange County Parent-Teachers' association. The trip is scheduled for next Saturday. The automobile caravan will assemble at 11:30 a. m. at the intersection of Buena Park and Manchester boulevards, in Buena Park.

This tour is open to anyone wishing to make the trip. Miss Hazel Nell Bemis, art teacher in the Santa Ana High school will be in charge of the tour. As a highlight of the trip a real Chinese dinner will be served at 4 o'clock.

Chinatown is rapidly disappearing, giving way to the search of progress, according to Mrs. Heine, and very few additional opportunities will be available for visits to this interesting section of Los Angeles.

Olvera street, a bit of Old Mexico, in a metropolitan center, is well worth the trip, recalling, as it does, the atmosphere of early California days, when Los Angeles was a small pueblo, Mrs. Heine said.

NO ONE INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

No one was injured at Third and Bush last night as cars driven by G. A. Lester, 568 Cypress, and Frank Pratt, 119 French, clashed in the intersection. After the crash, police said they were told the Lester car ran across the street and collided with a car parked at the curb and registered to E. Hepkey, Route 2, Box 235, Santa Ana. Penders were the only victims.

The Services a Bank Renders

—are part and parcel of the sound policies and efficient methods it practices.

PRUDENT loan and investment policies safeguard the depositor's funds and help earn him the expense of handling his account.

They also serve the Community by giving encouragement only to vigorous, well-managed concerns, thereby helping to maintain a sound business situation.

Good banking stays within these real services. It does not seek by free favors, easy loaning practices or other such inducements to gain customers. Observance of this principle is a cardinal part of this bank's management policies in its relations with all customers at all times.

Sales Event Of Pep Boys Sets Record

New volume of sales records and public enthusiasm have marked the Pep Boys' third anniversary sale, according to Murray Rosenfeld, general manager. In each of the 11 stores, the patronage during the first week of sale has eclipsed all former events except the sale openings. The combined total for the entire group of stores is without parallel in the sales history of the Pep Boys of California, according to Rosenfeld. "We are extremely grateful to our friends and patrons for the tremendous reception they have accorded our birthday sale," Rosenfeld stated. "Outstanding values we presented for this event have received even more enthusiastic response than we expected. For the rest of the sales event, every Pep Boys store has prepared new offerings of especially priced motoring needs." The local store is located at 211 North Main street.

CHRYSLER ANSWERS WEIGHTY PROBLEM

Can a Chrysler "take it?" Below is the family of J. T. West, Long Beach, with the new Airflow Chrysler Imperial sedan in which all six ride together comfortably, and together they weigh just 1540 pounds. Otto Haan, Plymouth and Chrysler distributor for Orange county, opines that's a real tribute to Airflow Chrysler roominess. Left to right are Mrs. West, 190 pounds; West, 290; Jean, 11 years old, 150; Barney, 325; Patsy, 9 years old, 115, and Leonard "Tiny", 470. When the Wests go riding, West, Patsy and Leonard sit in front, the others, in the rear. By-the-way, West operates a restaurant at Long Beach!

TRAFFIC TICKET 'FIXING' DEMORALIZES OFFICERS IN SAFETY MOVES, SAYS AAA

"Fixing" tickets for violation of traffic laws has demoralized traffic police and courts in numerous instances, according to charges made by the Traffic Safety Advisory committee of the American Automobile association today in urging a nation-wide adoption of steps to combat what the committee argues is a traffic evil and menace to safety.

"The fixing of violations of motor vehicle laws and regulations has assumed serious proportions in many jurisdictions throughout the country," a resolution adopted by the safety committee declared. "This practice is invariably linked with favoritism and politics in law administration."

"It has been demonstrated that there is a definite relationship between fixing and accident frequency and that in jurisdictions where it has been abolished there immediately resulted a greatly improved safety record."

"The Traffic Safety Advisory Committee of the A. A. A. condemns fixing in all its forms and urges nation-wide adoption of steps to combat it in the interest of saving lives and the proper administration and enforcement of motor vehicle laws designed to that end."

Turning its attention to the question of the drunken driver, the Traffic Safety Advisory Committee contended: "The problem of drunken driving can be solved only by stern and unrelenting enforcement without fear or favor and with major emphasis on the weapons of suspension and revocation. We urge the tightening up of laws against drunken driving in all jurisdictions where such legislation is below standard and also urge enforcement bodies throughout the nation to curb this evil by placing the full weight of their authority back of laws penalizing this type of violation."

Major purpose of the safety advisory committee session is to determine ways and means by which affiliated motor clubs throughout the country can most effectively carry forward the expanded program of the national motoring organization.

Reo Is Tops In Building Hiway Buses

W. W. Woods, local Reo dealer, proudly points to recently published figures which reveal that out of every five bus sales, one is a Reo.

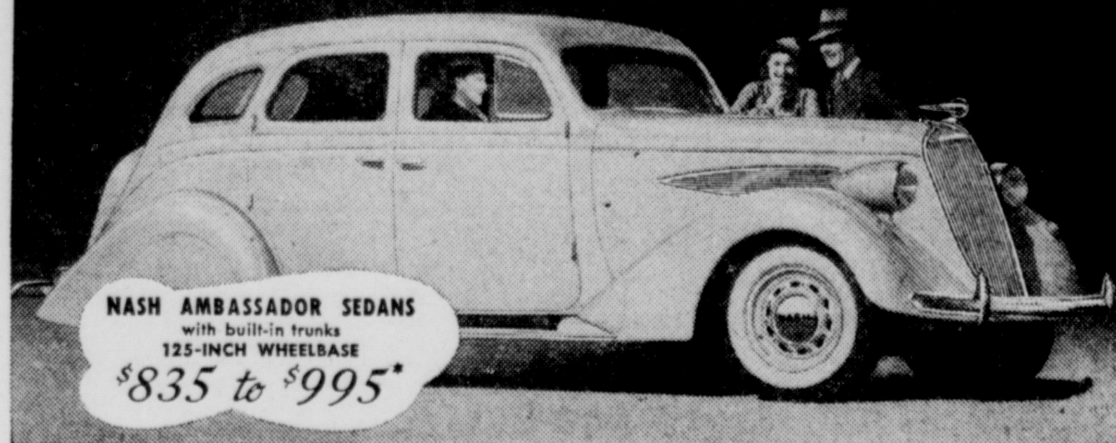

"Reo's position in the bus field has been attained by years of fine service and the production of bus chassis which are safe and rugged," Woods said. "Reo's gold crown engine is especially adapted to bus work for it has the solid qualities which withstand severe treatment, and Reo prices always have been lowest in the field for comparable chassis."

There has been increased sale in all commercial car divisions, according to the dealer here, and the spring production scale for Reo has been stepped up more than any time in the last five years. Many new Reo sales headquarters have been established throughout the country, particularly in the west, Woods said.

"Of course it feels different, Dad... it is different!"

IT took more than just good performance to win over 2,500,000 Ford V-8 fans in less than four years. It's an entirely different kind of performance that did it! It's the V-8 engine, first and foremost. The smoother flow of its 85 horsepower. Its pick-up in traffic. Its easy pull in the open and up the hills. For you can't expect any less modern engine to feel like a V-8. And you don't find another V-8 below $1645.

Then there's riding comfort. Ford springbase is 123"—almost a foot longer than wheelbase. You'll quickly feel the edge this gives a Ford on cars near its size and weight. Next, there's a type of chassis in the Ford not found anywhere else in the world today. That's why a Ford "keeps its feet" so remarkably on turns and over rough roads.

Why not try these advantages today? Before you decide on any new car—get the "V-8 feel" that put the Ford first among all cars last year!

STUDEBAKER IS OFFERING CAR TO 'ACE' BUYER

Title of "the most faithful Studebaker owner" will be given to someone with the close of Studebaker's "Veteran Owner Contest" on May 16, it was pointed out today by officials of the Headley Motor company, local Studebaker dealers.

The free prize which goes with the title is a Studebaker President Cruising sedan, Headley said, urging any who believe themselves eligible, to come to the local headquarters for application blanks.

The headquarters is located at 117 North Sycamore.

"We have been informed that numerous claimants for the title of 'most faithful owner,' have sent their ownership records to the factory at South Bend, Ind., but none has yet been found to have an overwhelming lead," Headley declared. "Remember, Studebaker began making automobiles in 1902 and the subsequent years have given someone an excellent opportunity to reveal a brilliant record of fidelity to the Studebaker trademark."

The local dealer reminded also that any Studebaker owner who has owned a Studebaker for five years or more is eligible to obtain a beautifully embossed membership card, bearing the owner's name and the signature of Paul G. Hoffman, president of the company. The card serves for ready identification and the holder is entitled to special courtesies from Studebaker dealers.

The United States has one automobile to every five persons.

MUSICIANS FAVOR PONTIACS

When Griff Williams, famous band leader, and his orchestra decided to use Pontiac "Silver Streaks" for their personal transportation, they did so in a big way. Here's Griff, himself, seated on the fender, and the members of his band, who have just purchased seven brand new Pontiacs. The cars will be used in a tour this summer.

BUICK DOUBLES RETAIL SALES IN ONE MONTH

More than doubling sales of February, the Buick Motor company made 15,057 retail deliveries of cars in March, in this country. It was reported this week to W. R. "Stormy" Gordon, new owner of Reid Motor company, local Buick agency, 221 East Fifth street.

Figures were made public by Harlow H. Curtice, Buick president. The March total was a 130 per cent gain over March, 1935. March deliveries compared with 6,577 sales reported in February a gain of 8,480 units or 128 per cent, and with 6,534 in the corresponding month a year ago, an increase of 8,523 cars, 130 per cent.

Approximately half the total business for the month was transacted during the final 10-day period, in which 7,183 cars were delivered to retail customers throughout the country. This was the biggest final 10-day period of March since 1927. It compared with 2,890 deliveries in the final period of the preceding month and with 3,258 in the corresponding period of March a year ago.

The month just ended saw the biggest Buick sales volume since the introduction of the 1936 models last fall, exceeding the sales of October, the month immediately following introduction, when 14,287 cars were sold at retail. As a result of the heavy retail volume and looking to an increase during the current month, April production schedules have been stepped up 2,000 units, Gordon said, bringing the total projected output for April to 18,602 cars, including export and Canadian shipments. This will be the highest month's output since August, 1935, when Buick announced its new models for the following year.

MARY'S LAMB RIDES WHITE MOTORCYCLE

Mary's "little lamb" nowadays generally is a California highway patrol officer. For, as Mary and her school companions go to school these days, by bus, a state highway patrolman frequently follows along behind on his white motorcycle as a guardian of their safety.

"The officer is as meek as a lamb unless a careless motorist attempts to pass Mary's bus while it is stopped," Ray Ingels, director of the state motor vehicle department, said today. "Then the motorist must answer for violating the law."

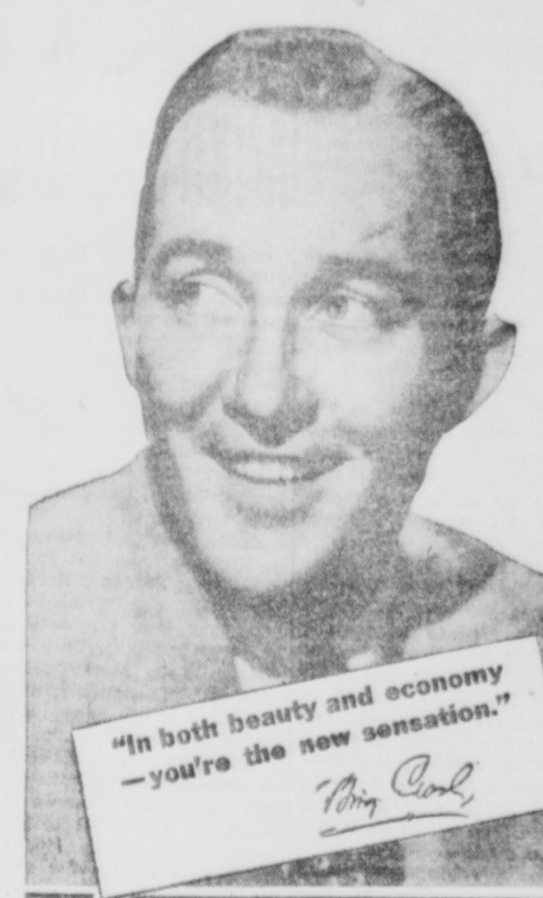

Officers were recently ordered to arrange their schedules wherever possible, to permit them to follow school buses on all rural routes of the state.

GREATEST SALES MONTH SINCE 1929 REGISTERED BY PONTIAC; MORE THAN 17,000 DELIVERED

Retail Pontiac deliveries for March were 17,464, which represents the biggest month for Pontiac dealers since July, 1929, according to A. C. Lillard, Santa Ana's Pontiac dealer, with headquarters at 310 East Fifth street.

The March total, this year, is more than double the February total, so far as concerns deliveries of Pontiacs, was greater than January and February combined and almost 1,500 more than March, 1935. The last 10-day period of March, with 8,129 deliveries, was bigger than any other 10-day period since April, 1929, and was the third largest in Pontiac history. The only two times the 10-day period was bettered came in 1929.

"Since January 1, this year, the Pontiac dealers have sold 76,807 used cars," Lillard said. "That is one and one-half times as many used cars as have been sold by Pontiac dealers during any first three months' period in the history of the company. How great the recuperative powers of this country are, is indicated by the way automobile retail sales and deliveries have increased during the last part of March.

"Even after one of the worst winters in history and with destructive floods covering extensive portions of the most populous parts of northeastern United States, Pontiac dealers are entering the month of April with more unfilled retail orders on hand than they have had at any time this year."

DOUBLE WHITE LINE IS DANGER SIGNAL

Warning was issued to motorists this week by H. C. Meehan, captain of the local highway patrol division, never to cross to the left over a double white traffic line on the highways.

The warning, issued at request of E. Raymond Cato, chief of the highway patrol, calls attention to the meaning of the new road marker now rapidly appearing on city, county, and state highway arteries. The double stripe is signal that the highway, at that point, is particularly dangerous; it is painted on the highways with four lanes and on all curves, grades, intersections, etc. Motorists who drive to the left across the double warning lines are subject to reckless driving tickets.

Warnings Issued To Careless Drivers By Meehan

LICENSES MAY BE CANCELLED ON 2 NOTICES

A method of checking up on careless motorists through system of warning notices given them, is being put into effect this week in Orange county by Capt. H. C.

Meehan, head of the local division of the California highway patrol. Each highway patrol officer will carry with him a book of warning slips, in triplicate, one copy of which is given the careless motorist at the discretion of the officer.

"In executing these reports, an officer will include in his confidential report, any reason for which the license of the offending operator should be revoked or cancelled," Captain Meehan pointed out.

He named the following "cause of action" against the motorist in connection with the warning ticket plan: Extreme carelessness or lack of ordinary driving judgment;

MEET MOTORDOM'S 'DOC DAFOE'

Believing he's given the "breath of life" to more automobiles than any other man in the industry, R. E. Hanna, final inspector of the Studebaker assembly line, has issued a challenge to all automobile workers. He sent word of the challenge to Headley Motor company, Santa Ana Studebaker agency, today. He says he has given the first start to 298,765 automobiles, brand new cars, as they came off the assembly line, and wants to meet the man—if any—who's been a better "automobile Doc Dafoe" than that.

impaired hearing or vision, or other limiting physical handicap; condition of insanity, epilepsy, or feeble-mindedness.

Continual dullness through habitual use of intoxicants or drugs, without actual intoxication; inability to understand signs or warnings, and habitually "accident-prone" driving even though not proved that the driver may have violated a law at time of accident.

The plan was put into effect by order of E. Raymond Cato, chief of the California highway patrol. "By this means of checking up, no doubt it will be found that many of these drivers have been involved in a number of accidents in the course of a year," Chief Cato said. "This warning may be used also, when an arrest is made and the officer has cause to believe the driver should be required to take an examination, for any reason, to determine whether or not he should be allowed to continue to drive a motor vehicle."

"Through this warning system and the cooperation of all members of the patrol, it is expected to rid the highways of many unsafe drivers and to eliminate a great many motor vehicle fatalities. Officers will continue to use light and brake stop cards in the customary manner." One copy of the warning is to be retained as part of the operator's record in Sacramento and, upon issuance and filing of additional warnings, the department may require the offender to submit himself to special operator's examination and driver's tests, with possible cancellation of license to drive.

DODGE TRUCKS USED BY MANY BUSINESS MEN

Most lines of industry and business in which trucks and commercial cars are used were represented in March by the wide variety of units manufactured and delivered by the Detroit Dodge truck plant, according to L. D. Coffing, Dodge dealer, with showrooms at 311 East Fifth street.

Analysis of the figures supplied by the special equipment department of the Dodge truck plant reveals that recently there has been an increasing demand for unusual types of truck bodies.

Already this month the special equipment department has turned out hundreds of different special purpose bodies which have been purchased for many fields. Some of them were: Accident prevention, medical, bus, aviation, baking, brewing, bottling, building materials, milk products, furniture, mortuary, gasoline, oil, roads and streets, ice cream, advertising, farming, florist, produce, refrigeration, meat packing, sanitation, general trucking and outdoor advertising.

The plant last month, in addition to these many special models, has turned out hundreds of the following standard types of trucks: Commercial sedan, Westchester suburban, two-ton tractor, commercial screen, commercial canopy, two-ton stake truck, commercial panel, three-ton dump, one and one-half ton stake truck, one and one-half ton stake truck, one and one-half ton chassis and cab, three-ton tractor, one and one-half ton dump, one and one-half ton canopy, one and one-half ton express and one and one-half ton stake trucks.

Church Prints Prayer For Car Drivers

NEW YORK, April 15.—(UP)—Trinity church published the following prayer for motorists today: "Grant me a steady hand and a watchful eye. That no man shall be hurt when I pass by. Thou gavest life, and I pray no act of mine. May take away or mar that gift of thine. Shelter those, dear Lord, who bear me company. From the evils of fire and all calamity. Teach me to use my car for others' need. Nor miss through love of speed. The beauties of thy world; that thus I may. With joy and courtesy go on my way." Trinity, one of the oldest of New York's churches, had the prayer printed on cards for distribution.

CATO SAYS 'ASK ME ANOTHER' IN AIDING AUTOIST

E. Raymond Cato, chief of the California Highway patrol, knows the answers when it comes to motoring. Below, he presents the answers to several questions submitted to him recently by puzzled Californians. He feels, in presenting both questions and answers publicly, that they may help thousands instead of but one.

Question: Can a muffler be equipped with a cutout, bypass or similar device which can be operated by the operator?—O. H. Answer: No. Question: Can I place a small sign on the rear window or wind wings of my automobile?—J. L. Answer: No. Stickers can be placed only in the lower right-hand corner of the windshield, and they must not be larger than seven inches square. Question: If a person is injured in a motor accident and is too seriously hurt to investigate and prosecute the offender, what help can he get from authorities of the state?—J. P. Answer: Facts should be reported to an officer of California highway patrol and an investigation will be made of the case.

Question: At what distance should an automobile horn be audible?—Mrs. R. G. Answer: Not less than 200 feet. Question: Is it unlawful to purchase an engine that has no manufacturer's motor or serial number for an automobile which I wish to rebuild?—P. R. Answer: Yes. Report any such case to a department of motor vehicles or California highway patrol office for investigation. Question: Should the pink slip for my automobile be carried in the car at all times?—Mrs. K. S. Answer: Never carry the "Pink" or ownership certificate in your automobile. This certificate is title to your property and should be kept in a safe deposit box or similar place of safe keeping.

Question: Must the complete face of my registration card be visible at all times in the driver's compartment of my automobile?—Mrs. T. B. Answer: Yes. The steering post is the most satisfactory place for the card and contains. Question: What is the penalty for operating an automobile without a driver's license?—S. M. Answer: It is a misdemeanor and penalty provided by the vehicle code is a fine not to exceed $500 or jail term not to exceed six months, or both jail and fine.

PEDESTRIAN IN MOST JEOPARDY AS JAY-WALKER

The danger spot for pedestrians, according to last year's record, is in the street between intersections. Capt. H. C. Meehan, head of the state highway patrol for this district, pointed out this week. Last year, 360 persons were killed in the danger spot, he said.

Of the 1180 pedestrians killed in accidents involving motor vehicles in 1935, a total of 355 met death while crossing at intersections, 294 were walking along the highway, 44 were coming from behind parked cars, 10 were at work on their automobiles on the road, 44 were children playing in the streets, and 42 were getting on or off another vehicle.

Indicating that the safety zone is not the safest place for pedestrians, 19 persons were killed and 89 were injured while standing in these places. Saturday and Sunday are the most dangerous days for motor vehicle operation. Of the 33,729 accidents in 1935, a total of 6421 occurred on Saturdays and 6012 on Sundays.

During 1933, nearly 3,000,000 people were caught traveling by rail in India without having paid their fares.

TOWNSENDITES PLAN TO HOLD 2 MASS MEETS

Two Townsend mass meetings are scheduled to be staged in the next few days. It was announced today by Walter R. Robb, Orange county Townsend manager.

The first meeting is to be held Thursday evening in the American Legion hall at Placentia. This will be the first meeting ever held in Placentia, where a large and active Townsend club has been organized. Judge M. C. Summers of Los Angeles will speak at the meeting at 7:30 o'clock, discussing the subject, "The Federal Reserve Banking Laws and Their Relationship to the Townsend Plan." Ted E. Felt, state area manager of Pomona, and Robb also will appear on the program. The Serenaders orchestra under direction of Sid Messenger of Santa Ana will give a 30-minute concert.

The second mass meeting will be in the Greek theater in Anaheim city park Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. An unusually eloquent speaker, Col. Ralph D. Horton of Los Angeles, has been secured for the meeting, the announcement said. He will address the large crowd expected on topics of interest to Townsendites and the general public. Harry D. Riley, Anaheim, will preside at the meeting. In addition to the main talk, an interesting program has been arranged.

The Anaheim meeting is sponsored by the Golden West Club No. 4 of Anaheim, of which Mrs. Ida Freeman is president. The Placentia meeting is sponsored by the Placentia club, of which A. Chester Peck is presiding officer.

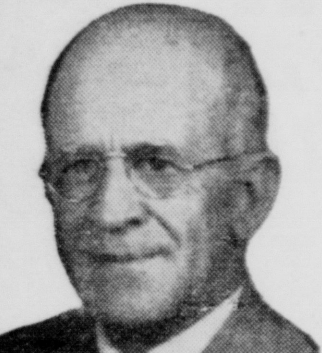

Robb said today that Townsend mass meetings will occur with greater frequency in the future in Orange county. He said that the activities of the Congressional investigating committee have greatly stimulated the fighting spirit of Townsendites everywhere. Efforts will be increased by clubs to gain new members, and better finance the movement in preparation for election campaign, he said.

It has been estimated that there are only about 30,000 Eskimos.

joy the vast difference in results to be had from Gly-Cas vegetable ingredients compared with the other medicines of the present day. Read what Mr. Purkey said recently in lauding the action of this new remedy to the Gly-Cas Man at the McCoy Drug Store, No. 6, at 108 West Fourth Street, this city:

"Gly-Cas has outstanding merit and will prove itself whenever given an honest trial," said Mr. Purkey. "For many years my stomach had caused me constant suffering. Very few things I ate ever agreed with me. Gas formed in abundance regardless of my diet. I was habitually constipated, had a severe soreness in my right side continually. All medicines I tried failed to give proper action. My kidneys were affected, too, up all hours of the night and my back pained me continually. I became terribly nervous, lost my appetite and I was in such condition that I could only do the lightest of work. It was terribly discouraging to be in my condition and have medicine after medicine fail in my case—but that was the story every time until I began Gly-Cas which performed wonders for me in a week's time."

"I have been taking this new remedy for several weeks now and I am a new man," continued Mr. Purkey. "I never felt better in my life than I do today. My kidneys are now regulated, the aches and pains have left me entirely and I am able to get a full night's natural sleep. I can now eat and enjoy my meals without the least disturbance; gas and bloating has been eliminated and new strength and energy has been given me. Even my bowels have been regulated, am gaining in weight and cannot say too much in praising this valuable new remedy. No wonder so many are praising Gly-Cas—it deserves it all and more, too."

The Gly-Cas Man is daily meeting crowds of local people at the McCoy Drug Co., No. 6, at 108 West Fourth Street, this city, where he is introducing and explaining the action of this valuable new remedy. Gly-Cas, 61 box; 6 boxes, $5, plus 5¢ box tax, by mail. Cash must accompany order.

JIMMY FIDLER in —HOLLYWOOD—

HOLLYWOOD, April 15.—No visitor to Hollywood should deny himself the privilege of motoring South to Ensenada, Mexico. The few hours ride through the West's most glorious scenery, from film capitol to this resort, is a dozen times repaid. Facing the Bay of All Saints is the Playa Ensenada. This hotel is operated by an Italian and an Irishman, Bruno Pagliani and Duane Dorsey, neither of whom has managed a hostelry before. They are running this one in accordance with their own hotel likes and dislikes, with special attention to minor details. Every shower has a bathcap for women, there are face wash-cloths available, the soap bars are large size, a maid unpacks for feminine guests, a valet attends to this duty for men.

Robert Louis Stevenson lived for a long while in Ensenada. He once wrote to his wife, in Monterey, California: "Here is the most perfect climate in the world." An early settler of the town has that original Stevenson letter, now worth a neat sum. Legend has it that a camel-back island rearing from the bay was inspiration for "Treasure Island." Modest Ensenadenses tell tourists the legend is false; Stevenson wrote the book before he went to Mexico.

Residents of the town smile softly at mention of Agua Caliente. The latter resort, once the gambling oasis of this coast, used to sneer at Ensenada. Now Caliente is closed; its gambling license has been taken away. Owners of Playa Ensenada hold an irrevocable contract with the government, and gambling is wide open there. That is why the residents smile. Gary Cooper, "Uncle" Carl Laemmle, Sylvia Sydney, Johnny Weissmuller, Lupe Velez, Richard Arlen, Bing Crosby and scores of stars have won and lost across the green-topped dice, card and roulette boards.

A number of stars who are almost too reticent in public are often better good fellows and otherwise is to take station beside the entrance gate shortly before nine o'clock and watch the players arrive for work. He who nods a friendly good morning to the gate-man is generally on the okeh side. He who passes the lesser workers

Piles Go Quick Without Salves or Cutting

Itching, bleeding, protruding piles are caused by bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel. The parts become weak, flabby, and lifeless. Only an internal remedy can remove the cause—that's why salves, suppositories and cutting often fail. Dr. Leonhardt's medicine, HEM-ROID, succeeds because it relieves congestion, restores circulation—helps to heal and strengthen the diseased parts. HEM-ROID has given quick, safe and lasting relief to thousands of Pile sufferers. It will do the same for you or money back. Druggists everywhere sell HEM-ROID with this guarantee.—Adv.

without notice may safely be tabbed snobbish and hard-to-get-along-with. At one studio, Ronald Colman and Warner Baxter, whose lack of cordiality in public tabs them recluses, are most popular in estimation of the gate guardsmen.

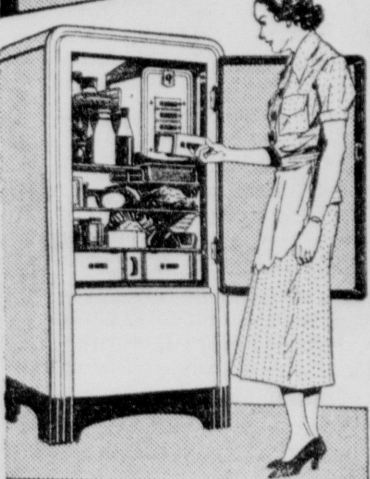

"Pinky" Tomlin, who numbers "Object of My Affections" as a life achievement (radio fans who listened to that song a hundred times daily during its extreme popularity were quite ready to shoot Tomlin on sight), is quite a man with the ladies. He has a sure-fire method of winning their devotion. He "totes" pencil and notebook, and when a feminine acquaintance utters a clever remark (they do, even among Hollywood chorus girls), Tomlin makes a great-to-do of writing it down, promising he will compose a song around the words. The seventeen-to-twenty-year-olds take it big and Tomlin does not lack for charming companions.

West Objects To Supervisor's Trip To Washington

CALL ENGINEER "LOBBYIST" AS OFFICIALS ROW

BY GEORGE HART
With Supervisor N. E. West, of Laguna Beach, still wearing his fighting clothes, after a morning tilt with Supervisor Le Roy Lyon over appraiser fees, the county supervisors yesterday afternoon were forced to trample over his opposition in sending Supervisor Willard Smith back to Washington to aid Newport Harbor and the National Congress of Rivers and Harbors.

Producing his best brand of sarcasm, West said that the project afoot to obtain rating as a federal harbor for Newport Harbor, with permanent federal maintenance, is going very nicely now and Supervisor Smith might miss it up by going back to Washington.

West also offered a motion in a very cutting tone, to "correct the error made two weeks ago when the board appointed George Malone as its lobbyist at Washington."

Malone, noted engineer and vice-president of the National Congress of Rivers and Harbors, was appointed as consulting engineer for Newport Harbor. West moved to replace Malone with City Engineer R. L. Patterson, of Newport Beach.

Says Not Qualified
Malone was not particularly qualified either as an engineer or a lobbyist, said the Laguna Beach supervisor, who insisted that while Patterson "may not be so brilliant a manipulator," he is much better qualified as an engineer, being thoroughly familiar with the harbor.

Paying Malone $50 per day and expenses to go back to Washington with Supervisor Smith would cause prejudice against the harbor proposal, West declared. Los Angeles county now is paying Malone 2 to 1 the amount Orange county is paying him, so this county would naturally get the short end of his efforts, West further contended.

As usual, in such instances, West's observations fell upon deaf ears. His colleagues ignored him, except that Supervisor Smith corrected him on the statement that Malone is in the pay of Los Angeles county. Malone was formerly consulting engineer for the Los Angeles County Flood Control district, but has terminated that employment, said Smith.

Motion Fails
West's motion to discharge Malone and appoint Patterson in his place failed to receive a second. After West had declared that Supervisor Smith might imperil the chances of the harbor to receive federal rating by going back to Washington, the board calmly proceeded to authorize Smith's trip, unanimously except for West.

The step had been urged upon the board by Chairman Willis H. Warner and Secretary C. A. Palmer, of the Orange County Water District board, who appeared before the supervisors.

Beekkeepers of Orange county will hold their annual field day Saturday, April 18, starting at 1 p. m. Demonstrations, discussions and general get-together of all beekkeepers in the county is planned. The honey market and prices will be discussed and apiaary inspectors will be present. There will be a demonstration by Trombly on the use of carbolic acid for removing honey, and Bell's dual hive will be on display.

Henry Perkins of Los Angeles will be the speaker and will talk on "Requeening After the Orange Flow."

The meet is to be held at the Roy Bell Apiary on Nutwood Road, one-fourth mile north of Katella Road. Nutwood road parallels Garden Grove road, one-half mile west, and Katella Road is one mile north of the county hospital.

JACKMANS SAY PALESTINE IS FULL OF RELIGIOUS FRENZY

(Editor's Note: The following article is another of the series being written by the Rev. and Mrs. Ted Jackman, who now are in Palestine.)

Palestine is all abuzz with excitement as this article is written. In a land that is always full of commotion, religious frenzy and Oriental fervor, this is not an uncommon state. Yet even in this land there are times when life moves faster and excitement runs higher than at other times. Such has been the first week in March.

First of the celebrations was the festivities in Jerusalem the Muslim religious festival known as the Feast of the Mecca Sacrifice, which lasted four days. For at least two days there was great preparation. The markets and gates of the old city were crowded with sheep and black goats brought to sell for the feast. The shepherd in his brown abba (cloak) and Kafeyeh (head dress) looked as if he had stepped from a page of a Bible story with pride to the men and women who came to buy. The transaction was noisy and before the sale was completed the buyer would often lift the animal to feel its weight and punch it gently to feel the fat.

The feast itself was characterized by the killing of the lamb the day before. Nearly every family had a sheep or goat tied in the yard and the children made a pet of the animal. In the yard next to ours the women spent the entire day in preparation. The lamb was killed and dressed, and I saw 4 chickens ready for cooking. The fire was in the open yard near the eastern and huge baskets of vegetables were standing near by. During the 4 days of the feast the markets and loitering places of the city were thronged with Moslems in their best holiday attire. Many of the women are veiled but some are not.

The jails and hospital and all the poor are visited and given food during the feast days. These Oriental people love a holiday and with the simplicity and excitement of a child enter into the festivities. Their manners and customs have changed but little during the past centuries and we see today the same scenes as have always been seen in eastern celebrations. The firing of an ancient cannon marks the opening of the feast and this is continued at regular intervals during the following days and nights. The cannon is only a block from us and at every shot the house would shake, so that we had no time to forget the feast.

While the Arabs were thus in a sort of religious frenzy of the eastern people, the Jews in a more modern way were more intensely nationalistic than usual, and special police were on duty at all times to prevent riot. The reason for this Jewish feeling was the Feast of Purim which occurred on March 8-9. This is one of the most interesting of Jewish celebrations and commemorates the Biblical story of Esther. It is a time of uniting all Jewish people against the "Haman" who would persecute the Jews. While there were some

TAVERN POST AT JAYSEE IS BEING PRINTED

The Tavern Post, semi-annual magazine publication of the literary works of the Santa Ana Junior college students, went to press yesterday, according to Thomas H. Glenn, faculty adviser of the publication. Glenn stated that the edition will be circulated late in April or early in May.

The Post this semester will include the contributions of approximately 25 students, selected from a mass of contributions from about 75 students. All contributions are original work and include prose, poetry, essays, short stories, plays and other forms of literature. At the end of the school year two prizes are given by the Tavern Post organization, the sponsor of the magazine, and Robert L. Brown for the best prose and poetry contributions respectively.

The staff this year is headed by Miss Frances Was, editor; Vic Rowland, business manager; Miss Ruth Warner, publicity manager, and Miss Lois Franke, Joseph Langland and Stanley Wilson as associate editors.

can sports, the British manners, and the Polish Jewish traditions, etc.

The enacting of the story of Esther was welcomed by the children who were all in costume of some sort. The mention of the name of Mordecai or Esther brought shouts from the children who would wave their colored flags, but when the name of Haman was mentioned the words were drowned by a volley of shots from the toy guns.

Thus the Holy Land is beginning a series of religious and national events which will continue in interest and enthusiasm until the Easter season which is the high time for the three religions, Jews celebrating Passover, Christians Easter and Moslems, Neby Musa. We will try to send an article telling of these celebrations.

WAGE FIGHT OVER YOUNG STAR

"I came over here to get my boy and I won't leave without him," insists Mrs. Llewellyn Bartholomew, pictured on arrival at New York from England. The mother of $1500-a-week Freddie Bartholomew, she said her trip to America was financed by donations of Britons who read her story of his life. Lined against Mrs. Bartholomew in the fight for custody of the young movie star is Miss Milicent Mary Bartholomew, the aunt to whom he is pictured clinging so affectionately. She is credited with having trained him and guided him to stardom, and was appointed his guardian in California.

"BUYMANSHIP" DISCUSSED AT COLLEGE MEET

The consumers' research group of the Santa Ana Junior college, Patrons' association yesterday was addressed by L. L. Beeman, instructor in political science at the college. Mr. Beeman spoke on the subject "Better Buymanship."

The meeting of the group was held at the home of B. B. Walbridge, 2222 North Main street at 2:30 p. m. The general topic of pure food and drug legislation was discussed. The meeting was under the leadership of Mrs. Nell Beisel, president of the organization. The discussion also included an exhibit from Los Angeles of the cosmetics on retail today.

During the course of his address, Mr. Beeman spoke on the consumer education courses in the junior colleges, remarking on the demand for such courses on the part of the students. Mr. Beeman has appeared before the group at other times in the past.

The afternoon was concluded with the serving of tea and waters by the hostess, assisted by the Mrs. Walter Fine and Walter Dunlap.

FALCONS MODEL PLANE MAKING CONTEST ENDED

Last night at the regular weekly meeting of the Santa Ana Falcons the winners of the model airplane building contest were announced and a new contest for endurance models was decided upon.

Dr. George McClelland of Fullerton Hawks was present and gave a very instructive talk on methods employed to make a model airplane fly more efficiently and also made some constructive criticisms on the models in the contest.

The Fullerton Hawks will put on their annual air show at the Fullerton High school grounds on the 15th of next month and will have additional events to last year's program.

The winners of the building contest were as follows: Class A—Vally Grigg, first; Class B—Bill Lumley, first; Jack James, second; Class C—Ralph Baker, first; Bobby Arnim, second; Class D—Jerry Robb, first; Jack Sullivan, second.

The winning planes are now on display at Gerwing's Radio and Bicycle store at 312 North Broadway where they will remain until next Saturday night.

The Santa Ana Falcons are an active group of boys interested in building and flying model airplanes and anyone who wishes to join may do so by coming to the Y. M. C. A. any Tuesday night at 7 o'clock. There are no fees or dues.

Young People Hear Talk By Charm Expert

How college coeds and young business women may tread the stepping stones to charm was explained last night by Miss Marie Fontayne of Hollywood in an address in the Y. W. C. A. rooms. One hundred junior college girls and members of Wynande Maedenu club of young business women were present for the event.

"Young business women must plan their wardrobe with such thoroughness and practicability, that often they are more tastefully and appropriately dressed than debutantes," the speaker said.

Miss Fontayne advised each person to discover her type, and then dress accordingly. Athletic, pretty and feminine and smart types were described, as the speaker mentioned the styles of clothing appropriate for the various personalities. Simplicity in dress was recommended for the average young woman who would appear well groomed at all times.

Make-up and coiffure problems were discussed, as Miss Fontayne drew on her contacts with motion picture notables and other famous people to illustrate the various types. In conducting a charm studio in Hollywood, Miss Fontayne has many actresses as well as young business women in her clientele, it was pointed out.

The speaker gave time to individual problems of members of the audience. Possibility that she will conduct one or two classes in this city was revealed when it was announced that she will give instruction for as few as 20 people at a time.

Last night's meeting was under auspices of the Y. W. C. A. Women's Athletic Association and Associated Women Students of the college, with Wynande Maedenu club members as guests.

In charge of the event were Miss Lucille Griset, president of the Jaycee Y. W. group, Miss Mary Paxton, member of the Y. W. cabinet, Miss Helen Fine, Miss Alice Compton, Miss Mary Lou McFarland, and Miss Genevieve Humiston, advisor of Wynande Maedenu.

Covered-dish dinner was served to precede the program.

Typographical Group Plans Spring Events

Making plans for participation in two April events, members of Women's auxiliary to Santa Ana Typographical union met Monday night in the home of Mrs. J. H. Randall, 116 East Washington avenue.

Mrs. C. M. Marvin was co-hostess. The group received an invitation to a steak bake to be held April 25 at 6 p. m. at Irvine Park, where printers, pressmen and stereotypers of the city, with their families, will join in holding a picnic.

Each member will be privileged to bring a guest to a covered-dish luncheon to be held Monday, April 27 at noon in Weber's bakery clubrooms, according to plans made Monday night.

The next business session will be held Monday, May 11 at 7:30 p. m. in the new home of Mrs. J. W. Jones, 1135 South Parton street. Mrs. F. E. Stilwell will be co-hostess.

Dessert will be served on trays appointed with Easter baskets.

In the group were the president, Mrs. William Lawrence, Mesdames Carl Fisher, J. W. Parkinson, Mabel Sherwood, Clyde Calhoun, E. R. Kimmel, C. A. Rousseau, J. E. Swanger, J. A. Patison, E. W. Ellis, F. E. Stilwell, V. D. Shidler and the co-hostesses, Mrs. Randall's mother, Mrs. Ann Fleming.

Housewarming Honors Newly-married Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Shiffer, whose marriage took place late in March, were complimented at a surprise housewarming recently in their new home at Greenville. Neighbors and other friends of the young couple had planned the event.

Refreshments of punch and cake were served at the close of an evening of games. The bridegroom and bride were showered with gifts.

In the group in addition to the honored couple were Mrs. Nay Clayton, J. W. Shiffer, Miss Evelyn Shiffer, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Shiffer, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dady and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Vetter and family, Mr. Chiloat, Mr. and Mrs. L. Hiett, Mr. and Mrs. Hiett Jr., R. Best, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Quiet of El Toro.

House-guest's Arrival Inspires Reunion in Santa Ana home

Recent arrival of Mrs. C. H. Dean from her home in Mexico, Mo., for a visit of indefinite length with her sister, Mrs. M. M. Cooper, 1017 West Third street, and with other Southland relatives, including her niece, Mrs. C. W. Scudder (Mrs. Cooper's daughter), inspired a happy family gathering Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Scudder and Mrs. Cooper in their home.

It was a veritable Easter feast in which everyone joined at a late hour in the afternoon, and for which the family circle and the guest, Mrs. Dean, welcomed a group of new "in-laws" that Mrs. Dean was meeting for the first time.

Mrs. Cooper's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. David Ross and their son, Charles, were present from San Juan Capistrano, while also in the party were Mr. and Mrs. David Ross Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Winston Field and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Richards, all of Los Angeles, and all of whom were married within the past two years.

Mrs. David Ross Jr. was Miss Margaret Addison of Los Angeles prior to the wedding of a year and a half ago. Mrs. Winston Field was Miss Sara Ross, and Mrs. Frederick Richards was Miss Polly Ross, and their weddings occurred within two weeks of each other in July, 1935. Both are daughters of the David Rosses of the Mission Village. Their brother, Charles Ross, returned to Los Angeles for a vacation visit with his brother and sisters and their families.

Japanese Tea Enjoyed By Primary Group

Approximately 75 kindergarten and primary teachers of the county yesterday afternoon enjoyed the hospitality of La Habra members of the Kindergarten-Primary association, extended in Lincoln school, La Habra, in the form of a Japanese tea program.

The school P.-T. A., headed by its president, Mrs. Scott, had planned the tea menu with which the afternoon was opened, and members appeared in pretty silk kimono.

Miss Dorothy Hamilton of Fullerton presided, and announced the next meeting on May 12, as a dinner event to be held in Tustin when officers will be installed. She then presented Mrs. Dora Pankey Gilnes, advisor to the group.

Mrs. Gilnes had charge of the program, and introduced as speaker, Dr. Eva Edwards, supervising principal of the Clement schools, whose subject for the afternoon's talk was "Cherry Blossom Land." She related some of her experiences in Japan, and told of the inspiration she received there for her book for children, "Haruko: A Child of Japan."

Chapel Lends Setting For Quiet Wedding

Santa Ana Wedding Chapel was the scene of a quiet ceremony Saturday, April 11, when Miss Edwina C. Smith, 123 Madrona street, Brea, became the bride of Delbert T. Walker, 218 North Lawrence street, Fullerton.

Palms, ferns and many flowers banked the altar, where the couple took their place before the Rev. Earl C. Bloss, officiating minister. The wedding took place at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Miss Esther Burmel of Orange was maid of honor. Willis Walker attended his brother as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker will make their home in Fullerton.

Visiting New Yorkers Plan Party As Friendly Gesture

In acknowledgement of the many courtesies which they have been shown during their extended stay in this city, those two interesting New Yorkers, Mrs. George Lewey and Mrs. Henry Carson, yesterday reversed roles and instead of being guests, were hostesses at a bridge luncheon of unusually pleasant features in Santa Ana Country club.

Attracted to this city through their close personal friendship with Mrs. Marguerite D. Borgmeyer, Mrs. Carson and Mrs. Lewey have been making their headquarters at Hotel Santa Ana, where Mrs. Borgmeyer makes her home. They have been granted guest privileges at the country club through the Benjamin J. MacMullen, and Mrs. MacMullen yesterday displayed her artistry and ingenuity in arranging party appointments, by planning table decorations, with the assistance of Mrs. Sara Johnston Haddon.

These appointments offered a bewildering variety of flower forms and colors which no doubt will remain lasting and fragrant memory with the two hostesses long after they have concluded their springtime lingering in the Golden State. Mrs. Carson is leaving next Monday to return to her New York home. Mrs. Lewey departs also at an early date for a visit in Hollywood, but plans to return to this county to spend the summer months at Laguna Beach.

There was the same charming hospitality displayed yesterday as had been shown the two easterners throughout their stay here, and the same bridge motif prevailed during the after-luncheon interval. In the contest, prize awards were made to Mrs. Wade Warner, scoring high for the afternoon, and to Mrs. Horace B. Van Dien, Mrs. Borgmeyer and Mrs. Irwin F. Landis.

Mrs. Lewey and Mrs. Carson numbered among their guests, Mrs. Marguerite D. Borgmeyer, Mrs. Benjamin J. MacMullen, Mrs. Sara Johnston Haddon, Mrs. Louis C. Lühr of Orange, Mrs. R. C. Holmes, Mrs. Irwin F. Landis, Mrs. Wade Warner, Mrs. J. B. Roberts, Mrs. Howard Rapp, Mrs. Helen Anderson, Dr. Mabel Vance Treble, Mrs. Ray Chandler, Mrs. J. E. Liebig, Mrs. Mark Lacy and Mrs. Byron V. Curry.

Club Speaker Recalls Pleasant Memories Of Orient

It was a pleasant hospitality which four members of Ebell Fifth Household Economics section yesterday extended their club sisters in the section, by receiving them in the Doris Kathryn for an enjoyable luncheon hour, followed by program and bridge in the clubhouse lounge.

Mrs. Cood Adams, Mrs. F. E. Pimental, Mrs. Norris H. Hilton and Mrs. D. E. Liggett formed this hostess quartet, and had arranged the grouping of their guests at small tables to enjoy the carefully planned luncheon menu. To Mrs. Hilton was delegated the responsibility of decorations, and she worked out for each table a great cluster of sweet peas which resolved itself into a fragrant corsage bouquet for each guest.

At the clubhouse, first attention was given to naming a nominating committee to report in May. Mrs. Ellie Diehl, Mrs. H. C. Kirk and Miss Clara Richards will make selection of candidates, and will report on May 12 when Mesdames O. H. Umberham, P. B. Gillespie, Harver Montgomery and P. A. Burkett will be hostesses.

During the succeeding interval, Mrs. Sam Nau took their audience on a delightful memory tour of Japan, China and India, recounting experiences on one of her tours of the Orient, that were delightful in their intimacy, offering glimpses of the country that are seldom encountered in travel books.

Bridge was played for the remainder of the afternoon, with first and second prizes awarded Mrs. Burkett and Miss Richards, and the surprise package won by Mrs. J. L. Marshall.

The two dozen section members shared the pleasant afternoon with three guests, Mrs. Nau, Mrs. Grace Bond of Los Angeles, house guest of Mrs. S. A. Jones, and Mrs. Alfred Crebbin of Hollywood, house guest of Mrs. F. F. Mead.

Little Barbara Graves Is Party Honoree

All in pink was demure little Barbara Ruth Graves last night for her birthday dinner; all in pink were the roses which filled the Graves home, 726 Orange avenue, and as pink as the roses were the three candles that sparkled atop the snowy birthday cake to indicate that Barbara has attained the dignity of being three years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn C. Graves had planned this happy celebration of their small daughter's anniversary, and assembled members of the family circle for a chicken dinner in her honor.

Places were laid for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Graves and their little daughter, and for Barbara's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Croddy, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Croddy, Mr. and Mrs. W. Floyd Croddy, Thomas Croddy Jr. and Mrs. Lillian Penrose.

All had brought gifts in wide variety for the youngest member of the family circle, and her grandmother had baked the big birthday cake which was iced in elaborate design by Mrs. Fred Croddy.

An evening of intimate family pleasures followed, and the tiny party honoree did her part in entertaining by singing several songs, including "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers" and "The Wheel of the Wagon is Broken," with her mother (Lorene Croddy Graves) as accompanist.

Spring Birthday Dates Of Small Brothers Celebrated

Youth reigned supreme yesterday afternoon in the Chester Horton home, 2473 Hollotree Drive, where Mrs. Horton dedicated the afternoon to the entertainment of her two lively small sons, Chester Jr. and Douglas, in celebration of their spring birthday anniversaries.

Master Chester's actual anniversary was chosen for the party for he was four years old yesterday, while his small brother, Douglas, will be exactly half that many years on May 2. The little lads had the excitement of welcoming a whole group of their playmates, and since many of the children were accompanied by their mothers it was a party for Mrs. Horton's friends as well. The mothers derived keen enjoyment from the games and romps of the cunning youngsters, all of which took place in the pretty gardens of the home.

Mrs. Horton had grouped toys and playground equipment for the pleasure of the small party guests, and was assisted by Miss Roberta Horton and Mrs. Francis Horton in directing play. Equally important was the assistance loaned by Mrs. Robert L. Bisby, who planned decorations for the long birthday table spread in a shady nook.

A large Easter bunny, fashioned of crepe paper, reigned in the very center of the table, over a gaily assorted family of demure baby chickens, plump little rabbits and fluffy yellow ducklings. At each child's place were favors of balloons, small tops and candies. The two birthday cakes, elaborately decorated, one with four candles and the other with two, had prominent place on this fascinating table, and were served with bunny-centered ice cream and other things that children love.

The two small brothers received many birthday gifts from their party guests who were Nancy Lee Reynolds, Nancy and Anne Conner, Ann Terry Wade, Peggy Lou Moore, JoAnn Gilnes, Paul Cannon, Susie Fowler, Leland Finley Jr., Jack and Dickie Taylor, Jack Conklin, David Workman, Jerry Horton, Edward Russell, Jr., Nancy and Deane Elfstrom, Jean Corey, Sharon Russell, John Ebersole Jr.

Mothers and other adult guests enjoying the afternoon with Mrs. Horton and her young sons were Mesdames Kenneth Conner, Robert Wade, Newell Moore, Aubrey Taylor, Roscoe Conklin, James Workman, George Horton, Sheldon Russell, John Ebersole, Francis Horton, R. L. Bisby and Miss Roberta Horton.

W. C. T. U.

"What a Friend We Have in Jesus" was the hymn with which W. C. T. U. members opened their April meeting yesterday afternoon in First Baptist church, followed by the devotional service led by Mrs. Fred Miller.

"Temperance in the Sunday Schools" was the program theme, and Mrs. Miller stressed this in her devotional period, reading various short items that applied to the subject, Mrs. R. R. Lutes, director of Sunday schools, had charge of the program and called for reports of temperance work done in the various churches of the city. Each church has a special temperance secretary, and those responded with accounts of various activities.

Mrs. Harry Hayes sang two soprano solos, "The Earth is the Lord's" and "Not Understood," for which Mrs. Jack Snow played accompaniments. Mrs. Lutes then introduced Mrs. Clara M. Jones, county director of Sunday schools, who gave an inspiring talk on the program theme of the afternoon.

Two Julia Lathrop Junior High school girls, Peggy Lou Hoffman and Betty Lee Martin, who had won in the medal contest at that school, gave pleasing recitations.

Announcements were made of the county executive board meeting in Yorba Linda, M. E. church, beginning at 10 a. m. on April 24, to which all Union members and friends are invited, and of the next meeting of Santa Ana Union on May 12. This will be in First Baptist church with Health and Child Welfare as the program theme.

W. C. T. U. PLANS OUTLINED FOR ORANGE GROUP

ORANGE, April 15.—With Mrs. Eva C. Wheeler, state president of the W. C. T. U., as speaker of the evening, members of the W. C. T. U. held a Frances Willard Memorial banquet at the Epworth hall of the First Methodist church Tuesday night, with Mrs. Minnie Neville, president of the local union, in charge of arrangements. The banquet was one of a series being held to aid in raising the county quota of $2000, more than half of which has been contributed in cash and nearly all of which is pledged.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Lola Dunham Grimm of Pleasantia, county president. Mrs. Wheeler told of experiences at Sacramento while she was in that city in the interests of measures designated to aid in the control of liquor.

The other two speakers of the evening were Judge A. W. Swayze and Ray Stull. Judge Swayze advocated local option as a means of liquor control, the impending of care and the confiscation of licenses of drunken drivers involved in accidents. Drunken drivers are, he said, potential murderers. He stated that it was his practice not to give any drunken driver a fine of less than $100. Middle aged men are the worst offenders, he said, while young men are most often found in the reckless driver class.

Stull spoke on "Temptations of Youth in Orange." He dwelt on temptations placed before high school students by the open sale of liquor. Piano accordion solos were given by Maxine Davis and vocal solos by Mrs. Leon DesLarzes, who was accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Oakles.

Tables were spread with rose colored covers and were centered with sweet peas from the gardens of Mrs. Neville. Candles were set in rose holders in pastel tints and Mrs. Pearl Kendall Hess aided the president in arranging the tables.

THE TWYMMIES

The big bear was a sight to see, and Scouty said, "It's certain he is very fond of bread and milk. Just watch it disappear."

Then Goldy added, "Bless my soul, look out or he will eat the bowl. We'll have to fix another batch of food for him, I fear."

"Oh, no," the old prospector said. "Stop feeding him right now, instead. He'll stuff and stuff and stuff until he drops down to the floor."

"You know, it isn't right to stuff, and I think he has had enough." Then Dotty grabbed the bowland said, "There isn't any more!"

The bear, at first, seemed very sad, and Duncy said, "Aw, that's too bad, but your fine master knows what's best, so make the best of it."

"If any more food you would take, I know you'd get a tummy-ache. If I were you, I'd find a comfy place and rest a bit."

The old prospector shouted, "Hey, if he does that, he'll sleep all day. I'm going to chase him out of here, and make him run around."

"You see, we've wasted lots of time with my pet bear and, frankly, I'm real anxious to start out and see if some gold can be found."

"We'll need a cart for travel and if all of you will lend a hand, I think that we can build one. There's a fallen tree outside."

"We'll use my saw to cut right through. It will not be so hard to do. I'll show you how to make some wheels on which the cart can ride."

Wee Scouty grabbed a saw and said, "Well, come on, tots, let's go ahead and get to work. They rushed outside and found the monstrous tree."

"Just saw off slabs four inches thick," the old man said. "It will work slick. When we have cut off four of them, we'll have cart wheels, you see."

The program committee, including Mrs. C. Glenn Curtis, chairman; Mrs. Goodwin, Mrs. Jack Ward, Mrs. J. J. Holland, Mrs. Stella Keene and Mrs. E. H. The nominating committee was announced as Mrs. J. D. Neuls, chairman; Mrs. C. R. Neely, Mrs. L. A. Hogue, Mrs. R. A. Bates and Mrs. E. H. Peterkin. They are to report at the May meeting when election of officers will take place. New members added during the past two months were presented. They are Mrs. D. W. Brown, Mrs. E. N. Pyland, Mrs. John Pfeiffer, Mrs. Elmer Pryor, Mrs. James Grant, Mrs. W. A. Kemp, Mrs. Stanley Gould and Mrs. Russell Sage.

The program was presented by members of the Orange Woman's club, with Mrs. B. D. Stanley reviewing briefly 13 of the late books.

The chamber went on record as opposing the proposed establishment of a prison farm in Orange county.

The Laguna Beach Business and Professional Women's club, by its secretary, Daisy Alken, wrote accepting the offer of the chamber for the B. & P. W. club to meet in the rooms of the chamber of commerce. Accordingly, the club will meet on the fourth Tuesday of each month at C. of C. hall.

The chamber delegated President George Porter to contact local Red Cross officials with view to opening additional centers for receipt of relief donations. Laguna Beach, according to Porter, has already exceeded its allotted first quota and is responding generously to further appeals, with no "drive" of any kind being staged.

The question of temporary sales establishment and unlicensed peddlers was subject of discussion in the light of a report made by Ray Fisher of the business men's committee. Co-operation of the police department was assured. It was decided that prompt notification by phone or otherwise, to police headquarters, upon the appearance of unlicensed peddlers, would bring speedy action.

The kite-flying contest sponsored by the chamber, which tourney had to be postponed by reason of weather conditions, was set for next Saturday, commencing at noon. Chairman Bruce Handy, in charge of the contest, reported many additional entries. The school superintendents of El Toro, Doheny Park and San Clemente are to be tested and special invitations to be communicated to the pupils of their respective schools.

The recreational program, instituted as a survey under sponsorship of the chamber, was briefly outlined by Burnett S. Mills, in the absence of Chairman Linton T. Simmons and Vice Chairman Garvan. Mills reported progress, stating that contacts with 10 California cities had been established and much valuable preliminary data obtained from the cities named.

Inside of thirty days, Mills said, the committee will have full data to present to the chamber of commerce. If approved, the findings will be presented by the city council, which will be asked to create a recreation commission.

The room was just as it had been, but there was no sign of Harriet.

"Where is she?" Toby cried. "Oh, Bill, where is she?"

The kitchenette of the apartment was little more than a cupboard. In fact, it had been once. Bill pulled the door back and disappeared inside. The stinging of the gas was sharper with the door open.

Toby cried, "Bill!" and ran forward.

There he was, with Harriet in his arms. "Raise the other windows," he directed. "Do you know where to get a doctor?"

He put Harriet on the davenport and did everything they could think of to revive her, but she was still unconscious when the doctor arrived. He made arrangements immediately to take her to a hospital.

Toby's eyes sought the doctor's, voicing the question her lips did not dare attempt.

"We'll do all we can for her," the doctor promised.

"But, Doctor—"

"No time to waste now," he said brusquely. "The sooner we get her to the hospital, the better. That's all I can tell you."

Later Bill sat with Toby in the dreary hospital waiting room. Her eyes were red-rimmed, the handkerchief she twisted in her hand a limp, moist ball. "What time is it now?" Toby asked.

He told her.

"Surely it can't be much longer! They ought to know by this time. Why doesn't someone come and tell us, Bill? Do you think they're forgotten?"

"They'll tell us, Toby, as soon as they know. I don't think it will be long now."

"But it's been a long time already. Oh, Bill, it's all my fault! I shouldn't have left her alone tonight. I know how she felt. If I'd stayed with her, as I should have, it wouldn't have happened."

"You mustn't say that, Toby."

PROGRAM HELD BY MEMBERS OF WOMAN'S CLUB

BREA, April 15.—Reciprocity day, which brought more than 30 guests from county clubs, marked the first meeting of the Brea Woman's club in their new headquarters on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. D. W. Goodwin, president, presented the guests.

Announcement was made of the annual district convention of federated clubs which is being held in Orange on April 29 and of the party being given for Lions and their wives and club members and their husbands in the Brea Community clubhouse Thursday evening. The program committee, including Mrs. C. Glenn Curtis, chairman; Mrs. Goodwin, Mrs. Jack Ward, Mrs. J. J. Holland, Mrs. Stella Keene and Mrs. E. H. Rodger will have charge of the program and entertainment. They are being assisted by Mrs. W. W. Hay, Mrs. J. D. Neuls and Mrs. Elmer Guy.

The nominating committee was announced as Mrs. J. D. Neuls, chairman; Mrs. C. R. Neely, Mrs. L. A. Hogue, Mrs. R. A. Bates and Mrs. E. H. Peterkin. They are to report at the May meeting when election of officers will take place. New members added during the past two months were presented. They are Mrs. D. W. Brown, Mrs. E. N. Pyland, Mrs. John Pfeiffer, Mrs. Elmer Pryor, Mrs. James Grant, Mrs. W. A. Kemp, Mrs. Stanley Gould and Mrs. Russell Sage.

The program was presented by members of the Orange Woman's club, with Mrs. B. D. Stanley reviewing briefly 13 of the late books.

The chamber went on record as opposing the proposed establishment of a prison farm in Orange county.

The Laguna Beach Business and Professional Women's club, by its secretary, Daisy Alken, wrote accepting the offer of the chamber for the B. & P. W. club to meet in the rooms of the chamber of commerce. Accordingly, the club will meet on the fourth Tuesday of each month at C. of C. hall.

The room was just as it had been, but there was no sign of Harriet.

"Where is she?" Toby cried. "Oh, Bill, where is she?"

The kitchenette of the apartment was little more than a cupboard. In fact, it had been once. Bill pulled the door back and disappeared inside. The stinging of the gas was sharper with the door open.

Toby cried, "Bill!" and ran forward.

There he was, with Harriet in his arms. "Raise the other windows," he directed. "Do you know where to get a doctor?"

He put Harriet on the davenport and did everything they could think of to revive her, but she was still unconscious when the doctor arrived. He made arrangements immediately to take her to a hospital.

Toby's eyes sought the doctor's, voicing the question her lips did not dare attempt.

"We'll do all we can for her," the doctor promised.

"But, Doctor—"

"No time to waste now," he said brusquely. "The sooner we get her to the hospital, the better. That's all I can tell you."

Later Bill sat with Toby in the dreary hospital waiting room. Her eyes were red-rimmed, the handkerchief she twisted in her hand a limp, moist ball. "What time is it now?" Toby asked.

SPEAKER TELLS UNION HISTORY OF NARCOTICS

PLACENTIA, April 15.—Members of the Fullerton W. C. T. U. were guests of the Placentia W. C. T. U. at an all day meeting at the Placentia Calvary church Tuesday. Hostesses were Mrs. Mrs. McNamee, Mrs. B. J. Rouse, Mrs. Bessie Beard and Mrs. Onita Pike. The two presidents attending were Mrs. Cora Hale of the Fullerton union and Mrs. Earl Mathis of Placentia.

The program included a discussion of "Narcotics," by Dr. P. Harold Gohar, of Fullerton, who outlined the history of narcotics. Mrs. Onita Pike directed and presented a playlet, "Our Country," with Miss Kathryn Behrens, Mrs. Rouse, Mrs. E. A. Hensley, Mrs. Baird, Mrs. McNamee, Mrs. D. J. Brigham and Mrs. Mary Dent participating from the unions, and with three children, Arthur Tugay, Wayne McNamee and Barbara Record, assisting. Mrs. Lila Ford and Mrs. Olga Wallace, of Fullerton, sang a Duet, "Out of the Ivory Palaces." Wayne McNamee played as violin solo, "Priests' March" and "Home on the Range," with the Rev. Don Milligan accompanying. Lois Risher sang "Dawning" and "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" with the Rev. Mr. Milligan accompanying. Mrs. Claude McNamee accompanied for the duet number.

The devotions were led by Mrs. Elizabeth Munford. Mrs. Mary Sumwalt led in the formal opening.

The program was presented by members of the Orange Woman's club, with Mrs. B. D. Stanley reviewing briefly 13 of the late books.

UPON receipt of a letter from District Governor Luther Mack, Huntington was instructed to contact other clubs of the county to arrange a date for the governor's appearance here.

Dr. C. G. Huston, the club secretary, announced that Mrs. Laura Warren, Red Cross secretary, will be the speaker at next week's club meeting. It was also announced that Dr. Huston, A. L. Pinkley, Charles TeWinkle, Morris Crawley and Walter H. Foord will represent the local club at a county council meeting that is to be held at Brea next Monday evening.

Can I see her? Toby asked.

The nurse shook her head. "Not tonight. She's very weak and the doctor doesn't want her to be disturbed. I imagine that you'll be able to see her tomorrow morning."

Toby was there next morning. She found a pale and wan-faced Harriet lying back against the pillows of the hospital bed. Harriet said, "I'm sorry, Toby. I guess I've made everybody a lot of trouble."

"Darling, it's all right now. You had so horribly frightened last night, but now everything's all right. The doctor says you'll be yourself in just a few days."

"Yes, I know."

The few words seemed to have exhausted Harriet. Toby lingered a few moments, and then a nurse said that it was time for her to leave.

From then on, her daily routine included as much time at the hospital as she could spend there. Bill came with her once, and another evening she arrived to find Marty Hiatt sitting beside Harriet's bed. There were flowers in baskets and vases about the room—so many that some of them were on the floor.

Harriet's illness had been reported as the result of an accident. She had many friends and all were solicitous about her recovery.

"Why, the place looks like a florist's shop!" Toby exclaimed.

Harriet smiled. "It does, doesn't it? It's lovely of people to send them, but I feel selfish with so many flowers when some of the patients haven't any at all. I've asked the nurse to take part of mine to some of the other rooms."

"She looks fine, doesn't she? All she needs is to get some color in her cheeks."

She did look better, although she was still weak. The doctor had ordered that she should remain at the hospital a few days longer.

Toby was cheerful at the hospital, but privately she was worried. Since the day Harriet had received Clyde Sabin's letter she still felt that life without Clyde was not worth while. That was why she had done this dreadful thing, of course. There couldn't be any other reason.

If Harriet would only talk about it! But she didn't. She was sweetly appreciative of everything that was done for her. She lay back against her pillows like a pale shadow of herself. The verve and sparkle, the gaiety that everyone associated with Harriet was gone.

Only one person besides Toby knew the truth about the "accident" of

THE PRESIDENT PROPOSES TO VIOLATE AN AXIOM

There never has been more than one way of creating axioms, rules or laws of conduct. It is by the synthetic method of not being able to point out any exceptions to the statement after exhaustive research. There never have been any exceptions pointed out to the law of gravity; therefore, it is regarded as an axiom, or universal law. By the same reasoning, we must admit that work, which produces wealth, is always beneficial to the well-being of society as a whole. There are no exceptions to this rule. It is true that production of wealth temporarily inconveniences some few but it benefits others by more than the amount it temporarily harms the few or the statement, that the production of wealth is beneficial to Society as a whole, would not be true. With this axiom, all human relations must be in accord if the welfare of society as a whole is to be considered.

Now comes the President of the United States, in his address to the Young Democratic Club of Maryland, and says that things are now different; that things that were true in the past are not true now; "that the government must give and will give consideration to such subjects as the length of the working week, the stability of employment on an annual basis and the payment of at least adequate minimum wages," and, by inference, brings out the conclusion that Society would be better off if people did not work until they were 18 and did not work after they were 65.

Business, in final analysis, is nothing but an exchange of services. If hours are to be limited and the part of a man's life time that he may work is to be limited, then, of necessity, the amount of his production will be reduced. He, of necessity, therefore, will either have to accept a lower standard of living or be the recipient of the fruits of other people's production, who will have to, therefore, accept a lower standard of living. It is simple mathematics. Yet the President of the United States of America proposes solemnly before the young people of America to disregard this axiom, this law, that the total consumption cannot be greater than the total production. The President seems to reason, by his statements, that if "A" masters the forces of nature and, by his energy, builds a piece of furniture or a radio, that "B," by the expenditure of equal energy and skill, cannot do the same. As a matter of fact, A's building anything not only does not prevent B from doing the same thing with equal energy, but it makes it much easier for him to do it because B may learn from example.

We, the people of the United States, are now supposed to disregard this fundamental law of production and consumption and be regimented, and our rights to the pursuit of life, liberty and happiness are to be controlled by people who do not seem to understand the simplest mathematical problems and simplest axioms. It was only a few months ago that the President of the United States proclaimed the great revival in industry. At that time, he claimed it did not just happen but "was planned." Now he proposes to freeze our economic condition; to stop all progress and, by law, prevent human beings from using their energy to work, build and create things to add to their enjoyment and to the enjoyment of Society as a whole.

Never, in all history, has any President of the United States ever proposed any law which was more illogical and which could be reconciled less with all human experience. It is, however, just another step in harmony with plowing under the cotton and killing the pigs, with the belief that we can have more cloth with less cotton and more bacon with fewer pigs.

We believe every worker will realize that this cannot be done. Only the politicians and those who never created wealth by their actual work will believe such kind of philosophy.

AN EDUCATOR KICKS BACK

At a time when democracy faces grave crises in many countries, there is a vital note for us in the recent warning of Dr. James Rowland Angell, president of Yale University. Says Dr. Angell:

"No thoughtful observer can fail to remark today the sinister trends whose ultimate implications are utterly destructive of our American universities. These influences are manifest in part by attacks upon freedom of thought and speech for members of the faculty, and in part by assaults upon financial stability."

The Yale president would have our universities intensify their interest in public affairs and social problems. If anything, he would have them increase their leadership in public thought. And one must agree that his proposal is inherently sound.

After all, the democracy we enjoy today is actually the heritage of these institutions. We cannot afford to lose one iota of it.

ENGLAND'S EXAMPLE

While three leading American railroads protest the reduced fare order of the Interstate Commerce Commission, it is interesting to observe what the British did with this same problem.

In England, according to the London "Economist," railroads reduced fares in 1932, and in the three following years enjoyed a total increase of 82,000,000 passengers.

Now it must be explained that the British reduced only their third-class fares by 33 1/3 per cent, while the I. C. C. ruling orders a 44 per cent reduction of fares affecting a far greater class of passengers. Nevertheless, it is obvious by this time that American railroads must resort to something along this line if they are ever to regain their business volume.

The experiment is decidedly worth trying.

COAL VS. OIL

In the last century, coal had a wonderful influence in the development of the history of Europe. England was the first country to develop coal and convert it into power and control of Europe; first to use it to rapidly increase her manufacturing enterprises and to control the seas. Coal was truly a great factor in the economic development and control of Europe.

Now, a new form of power, developed from oil and the electric spark, makes a new control of Europe possible. It limits the control formerly held by coal. When coal was king, England could control the Mediterranean. It could keep its right-of-way open to India and Africa. Now that we have the gas engines with the submarines and airplanes, England seems to recognize her inability to control the Mediterranean and keep her Empire together. Italy, with its submarines and airplanes, due to the gas engines, might revolutionize the whole face of Europe. It is very doubtful whether England will be able to maintain her control of the Mediterranean and if she cannot control it, she cannot control India and her possessions in Africa. Oil is truly revolutionizing the face of Europe.

'EXCELSIOR!'

Whatever it is to be said of man, he is distinguished for his sheer love of dangerous adventure. From the beginning he has dared death to reach high places and today has practically conquered all nature's strongholds.

All that is, except one—towering, savage Mt. Everest, 29,000-foot king of the world's mountain peaks. It alone has repulsed man successfully time and again. In all, 13 lives have been lost on its icy slopes in recent years, and many expeditions have turned back, defeated after weeks of intense suffering.

But has man given up the battle? Most assuredly not! Even at this moment a new expedition ventures to scale the highest mountain on earth. Ahead of these men lie inescapable torture; possibly even death.

And what will they gain? Already the summit has been viewed and photographed from a plane; there is no territory to be claimed, no great reward to be won. Man is driving onward and upward simply because he is man. There is no other explanation.

LITTLE THINGS SOMETIMES CAUSE UNUSUAL CONCLUSIONS

A Santa Ana business man received a dividend check the other day from a national organization. The check was signed by two persons. The Santa Ana man remarked that he believed he would sell the stock because it looked to him as if this corporation were making jobs for someone who was not earning his money; that they were boondoggling in private business; that when business firms began to boondoggle and make jobs which really create no wealth but gives someone a fancy title, sooner or later, the company would not be able to pay dividends.

Boondoggling in private business, or in the government, can only result in lack of dividends and lower wages for all the workers connected with the business or the government.

Day By Day In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1935)

WASHINGTON, April 15.—With only 80 days left in the present fiscal year, which ends on June 30, the condition of the treasury is not in accord with expectations. President Roosevelt's promise that this year the deficit would, by comparison with last year, show a drop has not been realized.

If recovery is here or on the way, the official figures of the treasury's condition show a puzzling increase in expenses instead of a diminution.

Thus, using round numbers, here is the way the treasury stands:

1. Expenses are $5,546,000,000, compared with $5,238,000,000 just a year ago.

2. Receipts are $3,199,000,000, as compared with $2,980,000,000.

Thus the government is taking in about $219,000,000 more than it did a year ago, but is spending $308,000,000 more than it did a year ago. So it is running behind its year ago situation by about $90,000,000. This is reflected in the official figures for the deficit now as compared with a year ago.

Deficit a year ago: $2,258,000,000. Deficit this year: $2,347,000,000.

Since the government is running behind last year with increasing speed and since the bulk of the revenue payments on income taxes have already come in, the chances are the deficit will run over $3,000,000,000 for the present fiscal year, and if it finally does show up a bit behind last year, the difference will be relatively small.

The fact remains that the United States government for four successive years will have had deficits in excess of $2,000,000,000.

The public debt figure is the most disappointing of all. It is now at $31,437,000,000, as compared with $28,855,000,000 a year ago.

This is larger than the president anticipated in his budget message when he said that the federal deficit would be $31,351,000,000 by July 1, 1937. So the federal treasury is way behind its own official predictions.

The public debt figures do not, of course, include the contingent liabilities, that is the securities issued which are guaranteed either as to interest or principal, or both by the federal government.

That's another $4,500,000,000.

The worst aspect of the federal figures is that the reconstruction finance corporation is no longer a drain on the treasury but is actually pouring in money out of repayments from the railroads and the banks. Also the public works administration is not causing much of a drain, as it, too, is using a revolving fund.

The real crux of the difficulty is the way the WPA or Works Progress Administration expense is climbing up. It is running at the average of about $45,000,000 a week. These expenses since last November have been about $744,000,000. The WPA is far more expensive than direct relief, in fact almost twice as heavy.

Another evidence of the fact that business is getting better is that the receipts from customs duties are $303,000,000, as compared with $265,000,000 a year ago. But all these improvements, which reflect increased receipts, are more than offset by the heavy expenses the federal government is incurring.

It may be, of course, that, after the election, the New Deal will begin sharply to curtail its outlay. To diminish the spending now, it is feared, might interfere with the New Deal's opportunity for victory in November. Once that victory is achieved, however, there will be a sharp tapering off all along the line. This will be compelled by reason of the rapid rate of rise in the public debt, if not by the public sentiment for economy that probably will be built up in the campaign itself.

What Other Editors Say

FUTURE OF WPA
New York Times

A recent report to Victor Ridder, WPA Administrator for this city, indicated that about 60 to 70 of normal industrial efficiency was all that could be expected, under present conditions, on projects under his control. Measured by that standard, the author of the report declared, the results obtained here have been on the whole "very satisfactory."

This confirms the conclusions of Governor Lehman's Relief Commission, which reported last Summer that efficiency on work-relief projects throughout the State averaged about 75 per cent, with New York City lagging slightly behind. Most of the projects were found to be "reasonably desirable and worth while," and tolerably satisfactory in regard to quality.

Whether work relief of this character affords the most practicable means of dealing lastingly with unemployment is another question. Believing that it does, a representative group of settlement house and welfare workers here has petitioned the President to reconsider the Washington order reducing WPA payrolls in this city by 42,000 before July 1. Provision must be made, of course, for those of the 42,000 who remain destitute and unable to find private employment.

But a start must be made somewhere, some time in the inevitable Federal retreat, for this business of trying to provide actual work for all the country's destitute employable until industry absorbs them. It simply cannot be done. However superior in theory, it is too wasteful and expensive a method of relief to be continued indefinitely on anything like the present scale. So experienced an administrator as Robert Moses, himself originally a "pump-primer" by conviction, recently went so far as to tell the neighborhood workers who sought his aid in their campaign that responsible local executives were "sick and tired of work relief" and "prayed for the day when it will be over."

That can hardly be for many long months to come. In the meantime work relief and home relief will undoubtedly continue, in communities like New York, to march hand-in-hand. But the Federal Government will be well advised to drop its vast central work relief administration

Little Renny's Note Book

By LEE PAPE

Saturday afternoon me and Puds Simkins and Leroy Shooster was wawking home from the park talking about different general subjects, and I said to Leroy Shooster, Hay Lucky, did you find anything today or anything?

No, gosh hang the luck. I don't believe I'm any luckier than other fellows any more, that's a way it seems to me, Leroy said.

Which just then he tripped and pritty near fell down on account of some kid sticking his foot out in front of him. Being a tuff looking kid in a green sweater looking as if he could fite the 3 of us put together, and Leroy Shooster said, Hay, what's you think you're doing, who you think you are, what's a matter with you?

Why, do you want to do anything about it? The tuff kid said. Sounding like a invitation to get licked in a fite, and Leroy said, Well what's a matter. I didn't do anything to you, did I?

Then go ahead and do something to me, the tuff kid said. And he made fists and started to jump around like a boxer and just then somebody said, Come, come, boys, this will never do.

Being some man with a pink face and glasses, and he put one hand on Leroy's head and the other hand on the tuff kid's head, saying, No doubt it seems very serious, but we all make mistakes, that's ony human, but to forgive is divine.

Mistake nothing, he did it on purpose, Leroy said, and the man said, Never mind, forgive him just the same. If you forgive him of your own free will I'll give you 10 cents as a little memento of the occasion, he said.

G, all rite, sure, Lucky Leroy said. And the man gave him a dime and we quick started to wawk away while the man was still talking to the tuff looking kid, and half ways down the block we started to run for safety first, Leroy Shooster saying, O well, I guess I must of just been feeling a little pessimistic.

Statements made today by Sacramento fruit and vegetable men assert that the recent heavy frosts have done far less damage to fruit crops of that district than was first believed. No damage was done the northern orange crop so far as could be ascertained, but the low valley lands were the most affected, with Santa Rosa vineyards and vegetable crops on the Sacramento river suffering the greatest damage.

As soon as it can, containing itself hereafter with grants-in-aid to the needy States, and leaving the issue of the method of relief so far as practicable to local determination.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

GOOSE-STEPPING TOWARD CHAOS

Goose-stepping towards chaos and night!

This vivid phrase occurs in an editorial in a recent issue of the distinguished Catholic journal The Commonweal.

It referred to an international situation, but it has a nearer-home application.

There are, of course, endless attempts to capitalize for purely partisan political purposes the critical reaction against inept and blundering "planning" of the national life, but there is right and reason in the reaction itself.

When men's affairs go awry they always clutch wistfully if not desperately at simple solutions and short-cuts.

It seemed so obvious in the darker days of the depression to say that the national life must be planned.

In the gay and irresponsible days of the Great Speculation we had no five year plan nor any fifty year plan, and we landed in grave disaster.

What's simpler than to say we must "plan" for order to take the place of disorder?

And we started figuratively to goose-step the nation into a planned existence.

Sooner or later we shall learn a people cannot be goose-stepped into anything but chaos and night. A planned national life—in the sense of a national life planned from the center—gives thrilling adventure to the planners (until the millions of war evaporate from the treasury), but in time it converts the millions into docile yes-men, leeches on government, or rebels.

In any event the end is chaos and night.

The spirit of modern men must be given elbow room. They will, in the end, refuse to be prisoners of a pattern. They cry aloud for LEADERSHIP; they will inevitably rebel against DICTATORSHIP.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

ENTERTAINMENTS

Everybody and his aunt go to the movies. The children want to go, too, and either because there is nobody to leave them with, or because it is fun for them, they are allowed to go. Usually they go in the afternoon, which is bad enough, but too often they go along with the adults in the evening.

Few movies, and I say this after years of observation, are good for younger children. Most of them are made for the younger set and their elders. They treat of the most dramatic sins of the flesh, the wildest adventures of impossible heroes, the most romantic phases of sex. Rarely do they leave a taste for the good, the beautiful and the true.

What grown people do does not concern me much. They are grown up and are responsible for what they do themselves. I would not censor the movies, but leave them to the audiences entirely. The time will come when they will stay away when they don't approve, and that is the only way censorship will work. The audience gets what it wants, I believe.

But the children are another matter. The usual movie is not made for them. They are taken along either as a matter of convenience, or because they want to go along. All children want to go along just to see what's going on in the world. This does not work out well in the matter of attending the movies. The pace is too swift, the ideas too sophisticated, the happenings a little too daring, too bizarre for the little ones.

Watching a movie does something to the watcher or there would be nothing to go for. What does it do to children? As I see it, after they have attended certain kinds of shows what happens to them is not good. They are overstimulated. They talk in shrill strident tones. They are overactive, making many useless motions, all very quick and jerky. Their eyes are too bright and noon, which is bad enough, but too often they go along with the adults in the evening.

There is a limit to a child's nervous energy, the force that he must use for daily living. If too much of it goes in one direction there is not enough left in others. The child who attends habitually movies drains his resources without benefit to his growth. If he uses too much energy in reacting to the latest show he has seen he would be radio precocious. Entertainment that leaves children in a state of overstimulation is bad business.

Mood counts for much. The movies do not set the right mood for right living for children. Children ought to be in a gentle, receptive, cooperative mood when they get to school. When they arrive there in excitement they are not in a condition to be taught. Their behavior, too, is affected, and not for the best. It would be wise to select the movies and the radio programs for children with conscientious care. Entertainment that leaves children in a state of overstimulation is bad business.

CAST OUT FEAR

Editor Register:—No city or community was ever built by being afraid. Old wives' tales of horror and ghost stories are not the things on which community builders lean. The state of California is offering to establish in Orange county a great penal institution. It will be the latest design, the grounds will be beautifully landscaped, and some three hundred families of good, honest, industrious citizens will be brought here and employed at good salaries for its maintenance. It will be a decided asset to the business life of this community. It will occupy land which has been a problem to its owners for many years.

The only argument against this industry is fear. The state institution for the criminally insane is located at Patton, just a short distance from San Bernardino, Riverside and Redlands. These cities have prospered consistently and are among our most beautiful and desirable Southern California home cities. The state reform school for boys, also the one for girls, and the Norwalk hospital for the insane are all located immediately adjacent to Whittier; and Whittier is one of our proudest cities, boasting a culture of churches, colleges, and beautiful homes. There was no hegrira from San Francisco when the United States government placed its famous federal prison at Alcatraz.

Orange county jail houses all the accused and convicted criminals of Orange county. It is located in the heart of Santa Ana, and within an area of two city blocks in which it is located, we also have our beautiful Y.M.C.A. building, our county court house and its annex, our Elks club, our Masonic temple, and five of our most prominent and influential churches. They seem to prosper in the same atmosphere. Confined criminals are not a menace to our community.

This proposed location is six miles from Santa Ana. It will have its own post office and be a separate and distinct community. Let's cast aside the bugaboo of fear and tell our state officials that we welcome this great improvement and its attendant payroll and other benefits to Orange county.
